Our City Comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Glendale
Begins to Show What
She Has to Offer

ON the first page of our second section of today's issue appears a full page advertisement on "Glendale, the fastest growing city in America."

If you have not already read the article, before you lay this paper aside turn to the page mentioned and be sure and read every word of it. After you have read the article, as a loyal Glendean, either cut the article out or take the entire paper and mail to some friend or relative of yours who does not live in California.

EVERY one of our 6,200-odd subscribers would mail their paper after reading it to some one of their Eastern friends or relatives, it would probably mean that nearly 2,500 more people would read about Glendale. This is figuring four readers to a family, which is about the average.

THIS advertisement, along with those appearing in other newspapers, was made possible by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, the campaign being in charge of the advertising committee, of which W. L. Twining is chairman.

The plan of campaign is explained in the article, and it shows that careful and conscientious consideration by well qualified men has been given.

TO US there is nothing that Glendale has needed more than a systematic advertising campaign such as the one now being inaugurated. It means that now our many benefits will be told to the world and the results will undoubtedly prove many fold. We have recognized the absolute need of an advertising campaign for our city for some time, especially so when the small cities all around us were raising large sums of money to boost their cities.

HAT these campaigns are paying big can be verified by a trip to these cities. You will find the city with the largest fund enjoying the most prosperity.

All the cities being advertised at this time none of them have as much to brag about as we have. A recent survey of real estate sales has shown us that Glendale has been an "Alladin's Lamp" not to a few, but to a great many of our citizens.

THE individual who has lived in Glendale during the past three years and has not made a nest egg surely has played the ostrich and hid his head to keep from seeing the many opportunities which have been and still are on every side.

BUSINESS houses have also had unusual prosperity. This has been shown in a concrete manner by the large number of them who have gone into larger quarters.

How many cities in the United States or in the world, of similar size, can boast of building permits totaling nearly six and one-half million dollars for only a few days over half the year?

Or, how many had a million dollars a month in permits for the first three months of the year? A word of four letters answers this question—NONE!

IS IT any wonder that we of Glendale are sold on our city? Sold in a substantial way which is being proved each day by the large number of real estate buys being made by our own residents. Now that we are going to tell the world what we have, instead of keeping it to ourselves, we will find the out-of-town people will recognize the value of our real estate from an investor's standpoint and get into the game.

THIS will mean more residents, which will react to the benefit of the merchants in increased business. Glendale is now on the way of coming into her own.

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, July 28.—American silver producers already have been paid $62,000,000 in excess of market prices for bullion as a result of the operation of the Pittman Act, Acting Secretary Gilbert today informed Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, in reply to a letter of inquiry. A total of 200,500,000 ounces of silver has been bought, treasury records show, at an average of 31 cents over world market quotations.

BOY SCOUTS TO SEE THE PRESIDENT

To Have Ringside Seats
at Hollywood Bowl
Reception

SPECIAL INVITATION

To Assemble at Masonic Temple at 1 o'clock on Thursday

Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills district will have "ringside" seats August 2, at the Hollywood Bowl, when his excellency, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States and honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, according to a statement made this morning by A. R. Eastman, president of the local Scout council.

By special arrangement with Dr. Roy V. Hogue, exalted commander, and the courtesy of Glendale Commandery, No. 53, Knights Templar, all Boy Scouts and troop leaders of the Verdugo Hills district council will be privileged to participate in the reception given to President Harding.

Participation in the event will be governed strictly by invitation and ticket for admission. All Boy Scouts who wish to "get in on this" must comply with the following regulations:

They will assemble sharply at 1 o'clock at the Glendale Masonic temple, 317 East Lomita, and Colorado street. The Knights Templar will furnish their automobiles to convey the Scouts to Hollywood and return.

Absolutely no Scout or adult leader will be permitted to fall in line or enter the Hollywood Bowl with the Boy Scout unit unless in full Scout uniform.

"By full Scout uniform," said Scout Executive Harold Bonner, "we mean Scout hat, shirt (or coat), pants, stockings for Scouts and leather puttees for adult leaders. Don't bring troop or other bags. Parents, or other relatives will not be permitted to accompany Scouts or leaders. The invitation to us is strictly limited to Boy Scouts and adult leaders in Scout uniform."

Mr. Bonner urges Scouts and Scout leaders not to cause any embarrassment by trying "to get by" with part of a uniform, or a mix of civilian and Scout clothes or all civilian clothes and a Scout badge. "The rule is imperative," he stated, "and will be strictly enforced that each and every member of the Boy Scout group must be in full Scout uniform."

According to plans arranged by Knights Templar the Scouts will be given "close up" seats so that they will be able to hear every word that President Harding has to say.

All during the trip of President Harding across the country and in an Alaskan excursion at the special wish of Mrs. Harding, Boy Scouts have been detailed to meet the president at his various stops and have aided in guarding him during his stay.

Mrs. Harding states that she feels safer when these capable boys in training for citizenship and full of patriotism are guarding the president. The president's wife has even gone to the trouble of telegraphing ahead of local Scout officials, as in the case of his stop at Tacoma, Wash., asking that an offer be made to the entertainment committee of the services of Boy Scouts. Any boy may become president, but thousands more have a far better opportunity to achieve the high honor of becoming guards of the nation's chief executive as Boy Scouts. Accordingly the Boy Scouts who go to the Hollywood Bowl next Thursday will not only get to hear the president, but will act as his personal guards.

PRESIDENT HAS PTOMAINE ATTACK

[By Associated Press]

ABOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN AT GRANTS PASS, Ore., July 28.—George B. Christian, secretary to President Harding, announced shortly before noon today that the chief executive was suffering from a slight attack of ptomaine poisoning, and would remain in bed all day, although he was feeling somewhat better than during the night.

The attack of ptomaine poisoning was caused, it is believed, by eating some crabs day before yesterday, and was aggravated by strenuous five hours spent in Seattle yesterday. It was not considered serious by Brigadier General Sawyer, the president's physician, but as requiring absolute rest for the day.

AUTO IS STOLEN FROM LE BENTON

An automobile belonging to J. Le Benton, 317 East Lomita, was stolen from in front of the owner's home Thursday night, according to report turned into the Glendale police department Friday. Thus far the car has not been recovered.

NEAR SETTLEMENT OF GLENDALE-EAGLE ROCK HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

Glendale Board of Trustees Has Next Move; Recommendations Received From Los Angeles School Superintendent

WANTS PUPIL EXCHANGE; PAY DIFFERENCE

Seek to Provide Permanent Accommodation for the Eagle Rock Students in District West of Windemere and College View

That the question of school quarters for high school students of Eagle Rock is near a settlement is indicated by reports from Irving S. Oliver, business manager of the Glendale Union high school, and A. G. Griffin, assistant secretary of the Los Angeles board of education, received today.

At the last meeting of the Los Angeles board of education a communication from the Glendale board was read, reciting the terms upon which the city of Glendale would be willing to receive Eagle Rock high school students. These terms stipulated that Glendale would sanction an exchange of pupils, and that for each pupil over and above the number of equal exchange, who will attend the Glendale Union high school, Los Angeles shall pay the difference between the amounts awarded towards school maintenance through the county and state, and the actual cost of maintenance per pupil. Full figures dealing with this phase of the question will be found in another part of this story.

In answer to this communication, a set of recommendations made by the Los Angeles superintendent of schools was sent to the Glendale board of trustees. Mr. Griffin states, and the matter now lies in their hands to accept or reject these recommendations; but, as much as the suggestions outlined in this communication practically constitute an agreement to the terms set forth by the Glendale board, it is thought that the Glendale board of trustees will accept the recommendations.

These provide that the Los Angeles board reimburse the Glendale board for the stipulated amount, constituting the difference between the state and county appropriations and the actual cost of maintenance for students who have already been attending the Glendale school. The second clause provides that students residing west of Windemere and College View streets, whether they have previously been in attendance at the Glendale high school or not, be allowed to enter, as this territory, through its geographical position, is less than one mile from the new high school plant. All other students entering high school, residing in districts east of Windemere and College View streets, will attend Los Angeles schools. These recommendations state that Los Angeles shall pay the specified difference, in the cost of maintenance, as before mentioned, for these pupils, including all those in excess of the number of Glendale high school students attending Los Angeles schools.

Although the board of trustees of Glendale have taken no official action upon this communication, it is reported that these recommendations are taken as a virtual agreement on the question. Mr. Griffin pointed out that the plan submitted by the Los Angeles school superintendent were practically identical with the plan proposed by the Glendale board, with the exception that it included more detail.

Col. Fraser told of the difficult task before him August 3d of maintaining order and keeping the streets clear of traffic during the passage through this city of President Harding and his party. He appealed to Legion members to don their uniforms and come out and assist him for the honor of Glendale, the post and the president.

Those who can do so were requested to present themselves at the city hall at 10 o'clock on the morning of August 3.

Two new applicants for membership were elected and sworn in, viz., J. R. Walker and F. E. Killig.

Announcement was made that the membership drive recently completed in Glendale as well as in other cities had gone over 100 percent and the statement was received with great applause.

KIDDIES WELCOME AT EXPOSITION ON AUG. 2

To See President From Stand Arranged for Their Attendance

Kiddies from all parts of Southern California will be welcome at the coliseum, Exposition Park, Los Angeles, when President Harding arrives at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, August 2. The executive committee in charge of the arrangements for the president's visit in this section, yesterday announced that there would be ample room in the coliseum and every precaution taken to make the review of the historical pageant of California both safe and comfortable.

The task of mobilizing and seating 80,000 children is so great that the executive committee request that children coming in from outside towns be accompanied by their mother or feminine chaperone. The co-operation of every parent is urged to make this a real red letter day in child life of Southern California.

There will be 600 former officers of the world war under command of Philip Dodson, all of whom have volunteered as a patriotic duty for this occasion. There will be 1000 school teachers in addition to the boy scouts. The Red Cross also will have a station on the premises and there will be several drinking water fountains—in fact every facility to take care adequately of the youngsters.

There are over 50 entrances to the coliseum so that it will not be necessary for all to crowd into the main entrance. Every child present will have an opportunity of seeing the president and pageant, as the president will be seated on a platform in the middle of the coliseum.

The parade and pageant will pass in slowly around the coliseum before the president and children.

K. C. TEAM TO PLAY MURPHYS

Taking advantage of the fact that the Glendale baseball club will vacate its grounds on San Fernando road Sunday to go to Lancaster, the enterprising team of the Glendale council, Knights of Columbus, have secured them and will there play the Gene Murphys of Los Angeles at 2:30. The teams are about equally matched and a class game is anticipated, which should draw a large crowd of spectators.

GLENDALE MAN WINS JUDGESHIP

Hartley Shaw Appointed to Superior Court by Governor

LATE CITY ATTORNEY

First Glendean to Be So Honored in Recent Years

Glendale is pluming itself and the friends of Attorney Hartley Shaw are congratulating him on his appointment by Governor Richardson as one of the new judges of the superior court of Los Angeles county, the office to be assumed September 1, when he will relinquish the law practice he has built up during the past twenty years.

Those best acquainted with Judge Hartley Shaw declare he is peculiarly well fitted by natural qualifications and training for the post to which he has been appointed which was held for four years by his father, Justice Lucien Shaw of the state supreme court, who has just retired from the bench and who is a resident of this city.

Hartley Shaw is a native son of Indiana, born June 2, 1874, at Bloomfield, son of Lucien and Hannah (Hartley) Shaw. His grandfather, William Shaw, was a pioneer of southeastern Indiana. His father, a native of New York, they are today celebrating their golden wedding in Glendale, surrounded by friends who are honoring him as former Justice Shaw of the California supreme court.

Hartley Shaw was a graduate of the University of California. He matriculated at the Hastings College of Law in San Francisco, graduating in 1897. He was admitted to the bar in 1897 and began practice in Los Angeles.

He was assistant city attorney at Los Angeles for three years and for six years chief deputy district attorney under J. D. Fredericks. In 1911 he came to Glendale and in 1913 moved to Torrance and was its city attorney before its annexation to Glendale.

In 1918 he was elected a member of the board of trustees of Glendale and from April to December of that year he was chairman of the board. From January 1, 1921, to October 31, 1921, he was city attorney and on April 7, 1922, he was again appointed city attorney, which he later resigned.

On September 17, 1901, Mr. Shaw married Fern E. West, a native of Iowa. They have two daughters and one son. The daughters are Dorothy and Evelyn. Both are graduates of Glendale high school and the southern branch of the University of California. The son, Lucien West, is also a graduate of the Glendale high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are both active in the Congregational church. He was a member of the building committee. Mrs. Shaw is interested in all branches of church work. The family resides at 212 West Park avenue, where they have lived since 1913.

SEN. SMOOT SEES KING HAAKON

[By Associated Press]

CHRISTIANA, July 28.—United States Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, visiting his mother's birthplace near Christiana, was received today in private audience by King Haakon, to whom he brought greetings from President Harding.

Senator Smoot is going to Germany for a study of that country's financial position.

150 HONOR VENERABLE JUDGE AND MRS. LUCIEN SHAW ON GOLDEN WEDDING

Former Justice of the California Supreme Court, and Spouse, Receive Friends at New Glendale Residence on South Central Avenue

INFORMAL RECEPTION ALL DAY

Governor Richardson Marks Anniversary by Appointing Their Son to Superior Court Bench, Where Jurist Presided for 14 Years

Judge and Mrs. Lucien Shaw, whose new home at 919 South Central avenue has just been completed, are this afternoon and evening opening it to about 150 invited guests, in celebration of their golden wedding. It will be quite informal, but they will be assisted in receiving those who come to congratulate them by their only son, Hartley Shaw of this city, who has just been appointed judge of the superior court by Governor Richardson. The event will therefore be a double celebration, in which Mrs. Hartley Shaw and the grandchildren of the host and hostess will assist.

Judge and Mrs. Lucien Shaw first met in Bloomfield, Indiana, where the judge began the practice of law after being graduated from the Indianapolis Law school. There their only child, Hartley Shaw, was born. Nearly forty years ago, or in December, 1883, they came to California, first settling in Fresno, where they remained for three years, then coming to Los Angeles, where the judge engaged in the practice of law with such success that he was elected judge of the superior court, where he served for fourteen years, or until elected justice of the supreme court to which office he gave twenty years of service. Something over a year ago he was made chief justice of the supreme court. When his term expired he refused to be a candidate for re-election and retired permanently from the bench.

His marriage to Miss Hannah Hartley was celebrated in Adrian, Mich., July 29, 1873, so the real anniversary falls upon Sunday, though the celebration is today.

The judge and his wife have been frequent guests in Glendale ever since it became the home of their son, and have become very much interested in the town. It is therefore natural they should select it for their permanent home.

LOCAL PLANS FOR HARDING RECEPTION

Vast Crowd Expected to Appear in City During Event

60 AUTOS IN PARTY

Use Bunting on Cars, Not the American Flag, Unless It Is Free

Final arrangements for the policing of the line of travel of President Harding's party while in Southern California were made Friday afternoon at a meeting of chiefs of police, marshals, constables and other police officers of Los Angeles county, held in the office of Sheriff Traeger, in the court house, in Los Angeles.

For the purpose of keeping the line of march clear and other duties, the regular police departments will be used, and in addition, the National Guard, the American Legion, the Spanish-American War Veterans, and Boy Scouts, will be employed. The members of these organizations in Glendale will be stationed along the line of march in this city, their duty being to keep the line of march entirely clear.

A vast crowd of Glendadians and out-of-town visitors will gather along the line of march to see the president, and arrangements have been completed to keep the crowd back to the sidewalk, the idea being to do everything possible that would add to the safety of the president.

The school children will be massed on either side of the grandstand on the west side of Brand boulevard, between Los Feliz road and Broadway. All school children of the city are requested to be on hand to greet the president.

The president's car will be decorated with pink carnations. The request is made that no other machine be decorated with this kind and color of flower. Also, it is desired that wherever flags are used on automobiles, they be so placed as to permit them to wave in the breeze. The draping of automobiles with flags is contrary to regulations. Red, white and blue bunting may be used for draping purposes.

The president's party of about sixty autos will start from the corner of Western and Vermont at 11 o'clock Friday morning, August 3, it will come to Los Feliz road on Brand, up Brand to Broadway and east on Broadway through Eagle Rock to Pasadena. It will then proceed to South Pasadena, Alhambra, San Gabriel, South Whittier, Downey, Clearwater, Hynes, Long Beach, to Wilmington, where President Harding will take the boat to Catalina.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock the members of the company started for their homes.

BELFAST, July 28.—The Ulster cabinet will discuss the boundary question Monday and on the same day Premier Craig will begin his motor tour of the free state, visiting Omagh, Enniskillen, Derry and other centers.

ARMES FOR CHINESE REBELS SEIZED

[By Associated Press]

VANCOUVER, July 28.—A seizure of arms and ammunition said by the police to have been intended for Chinese revolutionists and bandits, was made at a house on Princess avenue, occupied by a Chinaman. About 100 automatic pistols and 1,500 rounds of ammunition were seized.

G. A. R. RALLY HELD AT ECHO PARK FRIDAY

175 of Glendale Veteran
Folks Attend Big Gathering

About 175 members and friends of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. of Glendale attended the annual picnic of those organizations held at Echo Park on Friday, the event, according to Mrs. Julia Hayes, secretary of the corps, being one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind ever held by these bodies.

The machine loads of friends and members began arriving at the park at about 10 o'clock in the morning, when the usual greetings were extended. At 12 o'clock dinner, prepared and served by a committee headed by Mrs. Flora Pixley, president of the corps, was enjoyed.

Following the repast there was a very pleasing program. Comrade Barrett serving as master of ceremonies. Rev. Collins, a retired minister of Glendale, gave a splendid talk on the work of the G. A. R. and the corps and several splendid readings were given by Priscilla Houdyshell. Songs were sung by all of those present. Miss Pearl Moore gave a beautiful reading.

Comrade Clark gave an account of the orders with regard to the reception for President Harding, and also read the latest news in connection with the G. A. R. encampment in September.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell provided brick ice cream for the entire company. Cakes were furnished by the ladies of the corps, and one cake that remained after "all were filled," was auctioned, Comrade Taylor being the fortunate bidder.

36,000 INCREASE IN LIBRARY CIRCULATION SHOWN BY MRS. DANFORD

City Librarian, in Filing Annual Report for Year Ending July 1, 1923, With the City Council, Tells of Northwest Library

Mrs. Alma Danford, city librarian, is filing with the library board her annual report for the year ending July 1, 1923, which will in turn be presented to the city council and duly filed in the archives of Glendale.

It shows that 36,000 more books were in circulation during the past twelve months than during the year which ended July 1, 1922, and to this result both the growth of population and the increased number of books on the shelves contributed.

That the city fathers appreciate the expansion of the territory to be served by the library is evidenced by their recent purchase of two lots at Fifth and Robert street to serve as a site for the branch library which has been functioning at the Grand View school.

It is the general understanding of library board members that when funds are available from tax collections next winter, the first unit of the branch library at that point will be constructed and will consist of a circulation room on the main floor and a basement room for community center use.

Last year's appropriation for books totaled $10,000, which it was considered was badly needed because the library had not been keeping pace with the rapidly growing demands of the city. Few people realize how great those demands are. The report shows that 36,000 more books were in circulation during the year it covers than during the one which ended July 1, 1922. To this result both the growth of population and the increase of books on the shelves of the library have contributed. Total circulation at the main library is reported as 165,733, at the south branch 42,527, and at the north branch 4734, the last named having been established only since March 25.

A program of economy having struck the administration, it naturally struck the library first as it always does, so next year's budget will provide only $8000 for new books. Volumes added during the year were: Main library, 7206; south branch, 1602, and north branch, 1605. The branches have access to the service of the main library books at each being regarded as simply the nucleus for that center. Fiction circulation at the main library has totaled 74,102 on the main floor for adults and 47,831 for juveniles showing that about two-thirds of the patrons are children. Cards of patrons at the main library number 4241, south branch 505, and north branch 218.

A student class in library work is being conducted this summer for four high school graduates who are paying for their instruction in service. They wanted to find out whether they liked it well enough to make of it a vocation. If they make good and wish to stay, two of these volunteers will be made members of the staff to fill a vacancy in the juvenile department and act as substitutes.

Mrs. Danford states that outside of fiction the strongest demand is for books along industrial lines, psychology, sociology, architecture and interior decoration. Students in increasing numbers who are taking courses in Los Angeles and elsewhere, are coming to the Glendale library for the books they need.

Theodore Kosloff's mighty ballet spectacle will be presented as will other features too numerous to mention in this limited space. And to quench the thirst of the 500 thirsty throats the Union Oil company will supply the boys with all of the coca cola they can drink at their exhibit on the grounds.

A special thrill arranged for the occasion is the tour through Charles Gay's lion farm, one of the most unique exhibits of its kind in the entire world. Here the paper carriers will be given an opportunity to study the king of the jungle at close hand under the instruction of Prof. Gay himself.

Later the boys will be introduced to the famous little trio of midgets, one of the features of the exposition, and the evening will be concluded with a rousing band concert and special fireworks.

Paper carriers of the Express, Press, News and Outlook can obtain free tickets for all of the attractions outlined above from their circulation managers.

VACANT LOTS ARE STILL OBJECTS OF CLEANUP

Carnival of Burning Weeds is on; Will Continue to Finish

Members of the Eagle Rock fire department are still waging the clean-up campaign against lots covered with weeds. All property owners who could be reached by the department have been notified, and the announcement is made that the only reason some haven't yet received notice is that the department has been too busy to get around to it.

Before burning weeds on a lot, the resident must secure permission from the fire department, according to city ordinance. This is a safety first ruling and residents who fail to comply with the requirements will be liable to prosecution.

For ordinary rubbish fires, an incinerator is advised by the department. No rubbish fires should be lighted after 9 o'clock in the morning, as the hours set aside for this activity are from 6 to 9 o'clock.

To Assemble in Body to Honor Fellow Kiwanian of Marlon

BY W. L. TAYLOR

The Kiwanis Club at its noon luncheon yesterday at the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse had the pleasure of listening to a most interesting and able address delivered by A. J. Ferguson, an attorney, of Tama, Iowa, who has been the guest of his brother, A. L. Ferguson, 525 North Jackson street. Mr. Ferguson's address had a patriotic ring that left a lasting impression upon the large number of Kiwanians present.

"While this nation is in the throes of most perilous times, and while the radical element seem to be gaining a strong foothold there still remain enough patriotic and leveled headed men to direct the affairs of the nation and bridge us over the reconstruction period," said the speaker.

"Financiers are trying to work out the complex problems which confront us on all sides, and while the outcome is not at all promising we can truly say that God reigns, and the government of the United States is still functioning. It now looks as though Germany will collapse in a very short time, and we do not know how this terrible condition will effect us, but we have confidence that the problems will be solved, and that out of these chaotic conditions America will come forth and still hold her place in the front rank."

"The farmers of my state are suffering just now, and they feel that there is nothing that will help them. They have had failures, the banks have failed and they have come to the point where they believe they have been made the goat and will trust no one. They are leaving the dominant political parties and are taking up with radicalism—supporting the radical socialism—supporting theories that can never be worked out, and may be being elected to office by a very small percentage of the voters. Brookhart was elected U. S. Senator in Iowa less than twenty-nine per cent of the voters of the state. This is an alarming condition and if tolerated by the patriotic people of this great country of ours will surely run us upon the rocks," said Mr. Ferguson.

"The average man feels that he has discharged his whole duty to his country when he pays his taxes. This is the biggest blunder we can make. Just now there is a wave of propaganda sweeping the country against the judiciary and the courts of the land. This is the work of radicalism and is working great harm to the country. There is a demand from radicalism that the Constitution of the United States be changed to conform to the ideas of a certain percentage of our people. It is true that it may be necessary to make some changes in the greatest document that was ever written by inspired men, but these changes must be made by the friends of the constitution and not its enemies. The courts of the land are the backbone of this great commonwealth and it will be a sad day when the people turn their backs upon the law making bodies and have no respect for the judiciary. If that time should ever come then the day of the I. W. W. will hold the balance of power and radicalism will plunge us into a similar condition which has prevailed in Europe."

"No you are not doing your duty, gentlemen, when you fail to vote or serve upon juries for minor excuses. If the juries of this country were made up of such men as are before me today conditions would be greatly changed for the better in this country. I do not believe that women should shrink the responsibility of citizenship by failing to register. They should take their part with the strong patriotic citizens of this country, determined to stamp out lawlessness and radicalism and to place the country upon a plane which would reflect upon their having been given the privilege of the ballot in a favorable light. The ballot is the most effective weapon we have to combat anarchy and radicalism, and to place our land upon a basis that will make us indeed the bulwark of independence."

The sinner is in no hurry to collect his wages.

ballot in a favorable light. The ballot is the most effective weapon we have to combat anarchy and radicalism, and to place our land upon a basis that will make us indeed the bulwark of independence."

Mr. Ferguson took occasion to touch upon the wonderful changes he has seen in Glendale since he was here five years ago, and he said: "It is no wonder you have won the title of the 'fastest growing city in America,' when you have such live men as are before me today." In courtesy to A. L. Ferguson, Len Baird asked for a vote of thanks for the splendid address and the members gave A. J. Ferguson loud and continued applause.

J. H. Wittmeyer, who has just returned from Salinas, where he had charge of a company of national guardsmen from Glendale, was called upon and gave a short account of the trip and said the Glendale boys had a good time and that public spirited citizens supplemented the meager allowance of the state of $1 a day for the guardsmen by contributing money to make the trip more pleasant and profitable.

City Manager W. H. Reeves could not allow the opportunity to pass to boost the National Guards. He said: "We must encourage and help them whenever possible. You will, perhaps, never appreciate the guards as you should unless some serious trouble or riots should occur in this community and it should be necessary to call out the guards. They did it in San Francisco and they are doing this very thing all over the country where it is impossible for the police and county authorities to handle the situation. The guards can always fill the bill," concluded Mr. Reeves.

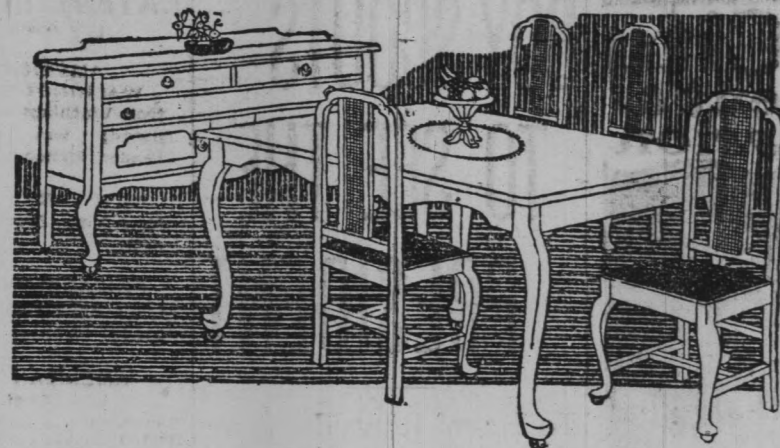

Mayor Spencer Robinson won the attendance prize given by C. C. Sherrod, Goode & Bellows also gave another order on their establishment as a second prize which entitles the winner to a suit cleaned.

The Kiwanis Club is going to greet the president in royal style Friday. President Harding is an active Kiwanian and a member of Marlon Kiwanis before he went to the White House. W. L. Truitt, H. M. Parker and Kiwanian Gibbs were appointed a committee to select a suitable location along the line of parade from Colorado on Grand to Adams on East Broadway and erect thereupon a stand or booth where Kiwanians may assemble and do honor to the president.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 25.—

(United Press) With some of the best strings of polo ponies in the world, the team of the Northwest International Challenge Cup tournament opened here today.

Interest is mainly centered around the possibility of the Camp Lewis, Wash., team defending the Wilson cup, won last year for the first time since 1914 by a team outside of Canada.

Camp Lewis during recent weeks assured the cantonment of being represented by the strongest team possible for it to send, and the military group will endeavor to again claim possession of the trophy.

GIRL SCOUTS TO AID RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT

Troop No. 1 Plan Part in Big Demonstration
in Glendale

Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1, captained by Miss Gladys Sharpe, met Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Wilma Gosser, 315 North Louise, to make plans for participation in the welcome to President and Mrs. Harding when they pass through Glendale August 3. Mrs. Harding is the national honorary president of Girl Scouts and for that reason the troop feels it should be represented one hundred percent if possible, and in full uniform. It is expected that Troop No. 4 and perhaps others will join No. 1. The chief activity of the troop just now is the manufacture of a new flag and a troop banner to take the place of those made three years ago. These new emblems of loyalty it is expected will be finished in time for use on the 3rd.

So many members are absent on vacation trips that it was not a full representation but as the majority of the absentees are returning next week, it is hoped the full troop can be on hand the 3rd.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by a special committee composed of Wilma Gosser, Sara Chandler, Margery Temple, and Amy Bainbridge. Others present were Beryl Goodale, Alice Carpenter, Frances Heitz, Alexandria Bagley, Lucile Harris, Margery Hart, Carolyn Ayars, Katherine Bender, and Miss Gladys Sharpe.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Margery Temple, 145 North Orange, at 2:30 o'clock.

OAKLAND MAN, HE COMES TO FIND OUT ABOUT US

"Whatcha Got?" Says He,
According to W. A.
Horn

"Whatcha got down there in Glendale, anyhow?" This is a question asked by a resident of Oakland of W. A. Horn, councilman and realtor of Glendale, in a communication recently. This Oakland resident has a friend who just returned from a trip to the eastern states. The friend told this Oakland resident upon her return from the east that every person in her car and most of the people in her train, consisting of 15 cars, were bound for either Glendale or Los Angeles. "This is the big surprise of my life," said this Oakland resident to Mr. Horn. "There must be some real attraction in Glendale. Whatcha got down there, anyway?"

BOY SCOUTS OF ARROWHEAD GO ON VISIT

Guests at Camp Robin
Hood Have Pleasant
Time

By A. C. COX
of La Crescenta

Camp Roy-Kent, B. S. A., Lake Arrowhead. The Scout troops from Camp Roy-Kent enjoyed a visit to Camp Robin Hood, a vacation home for boys near Lake Arrowhead, on Wednesday of this week. The Scouts were invited for a swim in the camp's excellent swimming pool, after which they took a trip to Arrowhead village and spent the afternoon boating on the lake. They finished with a boat race in which the crew, captained by Keith Woolley, won the race. The crews of the two boats were in charge of Mr. Benner and Mr. Cox. In the evening the Scouts returned to Camp Robin Hood for the camp fire at which a fine program of stunts, games, music and singing was put on by both the Scouts and Robin Hood boys in turn, ending with an original and thrilling ghost story by Walter Westcott, assistant director of Camp Roy-Kent. The earthquake on Sunday night shook down a few loose stones and dead limbs, and disturbed some of the Scouts a little while some of them did not hear about it until the next morning.

The Smith Fords won the odd game from the Coker & Taylor five in last night's match. Roeder was the big shooter with 613.

CARLOAD LOT SALE OF A-B RANGES NOW

Good Housekeeping Shop
Opens Drive on Small
Payment Down Basis

A carload of A-B gas ranges is headed for Glendale and the Good Housekeeping Shop, at 140 South Brand, is the center of one of the larger consignments to reach California under the general approval of this type of range that has reached the factory from California. The sale starts today. The seasonal demand for ranges is due now among Glendale housewives. The new consignment consists of the very latest models of the A-B gas range with ovens lined with rust proof metal that will last indefinitely, all heavily insulated to retain the heat and bake evenly. For the big sale staged this week at the Good Housekeeping Shop there has been selected just a few different styles and sizes of the most popular designs that will hardly be enough to go around. Therefore it would be well to make a selection early in the week while the carload sale is on. The payment required to install a range during this sale is only $5, and then $5 a month. The purchase includes an auto lighter and a set of white porcelain stock stove blocks. The heat control device of the oven bears the accuracy guarantee of the manufacturer for a period of five years. It is placing surety where luck reigned in baking.

TUESDAY CLUB TO PARTICIPATE IN HARDING DAY

Mrs. Leppelman Is Delegated to Secure Reserve
Space on Line of March

Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, patriotic chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, has been delegated to arrange with Col. Fraser for a place to be reserved along the line of march for members of the club which is especially desirous of honoring the first lady of the land because of her courtesy to the organization. When the club gave its Society Circus last year at the Elks Club, its most valued contribution was a pocket handkerchief sent by Mrs. Harding through her secretary to be sold at one of the booths. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president, and members of her board, feel it would be rank discourtesy for the club to fail to be well represented on the occasion when the President and Mrs. Harding pass through the city August 3. Mrs. Campbell, as a member of the local reception committee, will be upon the special reviewing stand to be erected on Brand boulevard.

The Past Members' association, which is giving the dance, is composed of former De Molays who have reached the age of 21, and for that reason are no longer active members.

Here's big, likable Jack in an entirely different role—the dashing hero of a melo-comedy drama that mixes Yankee pep with English dignity, burglars with bets, and girls with gun-play. sicians.

Film, "Shootin' for Love."
SUNDAY
"Uncovered Wagon," comedy.
"The Town That Forgot God."

Opening with standard vaudeville tonight, the Glendale theater will have for one night, "Shootin' for Love."
What is likely to happen at any moment to a World War vet who was a victim of the terrible "shell-shock" is illustrated in the Universal picture, "Shootin' for Love," which comes to the Glendale theater Saturday.

Hoot Gibson is the star.
Like other recent Gibson vehicles he is presented in not of the perfect, colorless, romantic type He's a real, human being. Universal has adopted that policy of making each Gibson role a definite characterization.

Sunday Program

"The Town That Forgot God," the latest special production announced by William Fox, possesses a universal appeal in its compelling delineation of life in the averagsmall American town. It will run until August 1.

This production deals almost entirely with the provincial community and the cast consists of the best known portrayals of small town character-types of the stage and screen.

Salient among the many spectacular features of this unusual production is the sensational storm and flood scene in which an entire town is destroyed. Harry Millarde, who directed "Over the Hill" and other sensational William Fox productions, and who directed "The Town That Forgot God," has again given proof of his mastery of the artifices which must be used to depict the raging of the elements on the silver sheet.

PASADENA CAMP MEETING CLOSES ON SUNDAY

The fourteenth annual Nazarene camp meeting of the Southern California district, Church of the Nazare-nes held at the Pasadena University grounds, Pasadena, Calif., beginning Thursday night, July 19, will close Sunday night, July 29, 1923. This is one of the great camp meetings where thousands of persons come to hear the gospel.
The special workers this year are Rev. James B. Chapman, D. D.,
the editor of the Herald of Holli-ness, the official organ of the Church of the Nazarene from Kansas City, Mo. He is known all over the country and fulfilled an engagement with the camp meeting last year. His preaching was very attractive and brought good results.
Rev. L. E. Swaney, another preacher, is from the south and is called "the Mountain Evangelist," because he is from the mountains of North Carolina.

A large tent seating more than 1500 will be pitched over the girls' tennis court with comfortable seats for the multitudes. There will be a platform seating a hundred singers and an orchestra of fifty pieces.
Good parking accommodations on the grounds, plenty of cold water, and a cafeteria where wholesome food is served at reasonable prices.

YOUNG FOLKS OF COLUMBUS HAVE OWN LIBRARY

The library which the Columbus avenue P. T. A. opened in Lyons' store at 407 West Doran street, is proving quite a success as evidenced by the busy crowd of youngsters engaged in choosing books on Tuesday and Saturday mornings. Miss Ruth Jeckel is in charge and she reports that 282 books and magazines have been donated. New contributions are always gladly received. Since the library was opened on June 26, 410 books have been checked out by 97 children. Grown-ups are beginning to find that there are interesting books for them on the shelves.

REVERIE

(All, all are gone, the old familiar faces—
Charles Lamb)

Of in the twilight come the old, familiar faces.
When the night falls and earth has all the graces
Of dusk and shadow and the twilight bringing
The notes of birds in distant vespers singing.

Of in the dusk I hear familiar voices
Speak and the heart of me delights, rejoices,
And they come back, the friends that were, from straying,
Back to the place in boyhood we were playing.

Long since they went, and I can not say whither,
But with my eyes half closed I call them hither,
Call and they come with laughing eyes to greet me,
By the old paths to call to me and meet me.

They are not gone, the old, familiar faces,
I see them oft in olden ways and places,
Hear lusty shouts and once again behold them,
And in the arms of me almost enfold them.

Far they may be and some a last sleep sleeping,
But when the dusk and twilight shadows creeping
Often they come and walk with me and near me,
And if I whisper I am sure they hear me.

They are not gone, the old familiar faces,
Friendships that were and bygone times and places
Of in the dusk and twilight I have found them,
With all the light and love I knew around them.

Vaudeville added attraction.

As its attraction for Sunday the Gateway theater has announced the Select Pictures corporation's special production, "Pawnd," made under the personal supervision of J. Parker Read, Jr. Advance reports on the photoplay warrant the statement that motion picture patrons who are fond of mystery, thrills, and action will overlook a bit if they fail to see this offering.
"Pawnd" is from a story by Frank L. Packard, among the best known of America's writers of current fiction and especially dear to motion picture devotees because of the success of his "The Miracle Man" as a photoplay. The tale is frankly melodramatic—but melodrama done in such a way as to make the picture stand out among the really worth while and artistic productions of the screen.

The title comes from a series of pledges, either willingly or unwill-ingly, made by the principal characters. One pawns his life to the service of an international gambler. Another pawns his soul to drugs, another to drink, and the heroine pledges her hand in marriage as a loveless bride to save the life of the man she loves. One needs no further information to convince them that the working out of such a tangled skein is likely to result in intense and vivid photo-play action.

Tom Moore and Edith Roberts are featured in the interpreting cast. Irvin V. Willatt directed the picture.

"A GENTLEMAN OF LEISURE" SUNDAY AT THE T. D. & L.

Waterloo Station, London, one of the largest railroad terminals in the world, is the scene of the opening episodes of the Paramount picture, "A Gentleman of Leisure," starring Jack Holt, which comes to the T. D. & L. theater Sunday and Monday.

This introductory scene, quite unusual in motion pictures, presents to the audience the principal players of the production right at the start. This is described by all who have had previous of the picture as a decided novelty.
Never before has any production
so employed this idea.

In the station, Jack Holt, playing Robert Willoughby Pitt, a young gentleman of wealth and leisure, is seen bidding his friends goodbye.
Sir Spencer Deever, nephew of Lord and Lady Blount, whose wish it is to secure for "Spennie" a wealthy wife and thus save them from financial disaster, also are present. But Sir Spencer has ideas of his own, and among the chorus girls who have come to see Pitt off to the States, Spennie has selected one as his choice for a wife.

"A Gentleman of Leisure" is a comedy drama, adapted from the stage play by John Stapleton and P. G. Wodehouse. Joseph L. Ma-nary directed. The supporting cast headed by Sigrid Holmquist, is exceptionally strong.

MILL CREEK GETS TROUT PLANTINGS

Although Mill Creek in the San Bernardino mountains is proving a fisherman's paradise and there appears to be no let-up in the number of trout being caught daily in this cold trout stream, the state is taking no chances on a possible decrease in the supply, with the result that 80,000 trout fry have been transplanted in Mill Creek ad tributary streams during the past two weeks.

Frank Culver, proprietor of Forest Home, has been in charge of the planting of the small trout in the various creeks near his resort.
The fry were obtained from the state hatcheries at Big Bear and were transported in large milk cans of ice water to Forest Home, where they were transferred aboard pack horses to the various streams.

The Beauty of Laguna Is Unsurpassed—Its Rugged

Where the Mountains Meet the Sea

By ALBERT MARPLE

Motorists who are satisfied to make their "extended tours" around their own back lots will probably find nothing in this story to interest them. They, naturally, have no desire for suggestions in the way of jaunts to the hills or the seashore.

There are thousands of car owners in Southern California and hundreds right here in Glendale who are desirous of getting away, now and then, from the ordinary scenes and from the usual haunts—away from the everyday drudgery of the home or the click of the typewriter at the office, and to point the nose of the family bus toward some distant retreat where rest is to be found and where tranquility reigns. These motorists well know that in these secluded, out-of-the-way spots are many beautiful little nooks and corners that are worth exploring and that are bound to provide a different angle by which life may be viewed.

During the past few weeks the Glendale Press automobile section has endeavored to give its readers an assortment of trip suggestions that would suit the most exacting. It has striven, and not without encouraging effect, to provide for its patrons unusual one-day and day-and-a-half outings that are really worth while—jaunts that when once taken will not soon be forgotten.

There are dozens of motorists in this city who never get off the beaten path, but still by so doing, they believe they are seeing Southern California. They are accepting the things, only, that man has provided for them, apparently not realizing that if they would but ferret out the many highways and byways along which the automobile stream seldom travels, they would secure a treat such as only God-made things can bring. They would get, as it were, on speaking terms with nature, which, after all, is the most satisfying thing in this world.

The expression, "getting back to nature," naturally makes one think of Laguna Beach, that picturesque and charming little beach town lying about 20 miles south of Santa Ana. Laguna Beach is not a resort in any sense of the word—it is an old-fashioned little town, a place where peace and contentment abide. If you, Mr. Motorist, have been searching for a place to truly rest—this little Laguna Beach is the community you have, without knowing it, been looking for.

The spot on which Laguna Beach is situated is a cove, or open space in the hills which to the north and the south run directly to the water's edge. It is a beautiful little seaside town, such as motion pictures are made of. As you enter it and walk along its streets it takes very little imagination to believe that right now on that very spot, plots are being laid and unveiled that will some day be the themes for movie masterpieces that some day will be presented to the world.

If you have known the small villages that are to be found in the Atlantic coast states, especially New Jersey, you have seen Laguna Beach. It is composed of possibly 200 houses of various sizes, a garage or two, which have superseded the old blacksmith shop, a few stores and other buildings, all located on the main road running through the town—and a church or two.

When you first enter Laguna Beach you naturally think, "hayseed." Everything will look strange. Probably you have never before seen anything that is just like this little place. The houses and the stores are different, the little side streets, with their dust and their sand that stretch to either side of the main highway, running from the outlying country to and through the little hamlet, are not like ordinary streets.

At first you are not sure that you like these new conditions. You do not know that the odd features and the quaint little town as a whole appeals to you. But even before you realize it the surroundings begin to grow on you. You begin to see things from a different angle. As the general atmosphere begins to call back the visions of the slow, peaceful little towns of long ago, you begin to wonder if "it" is behind-the-scenes life is not the real thing after all. Before you have been there a day you are absolutely sure that it is.

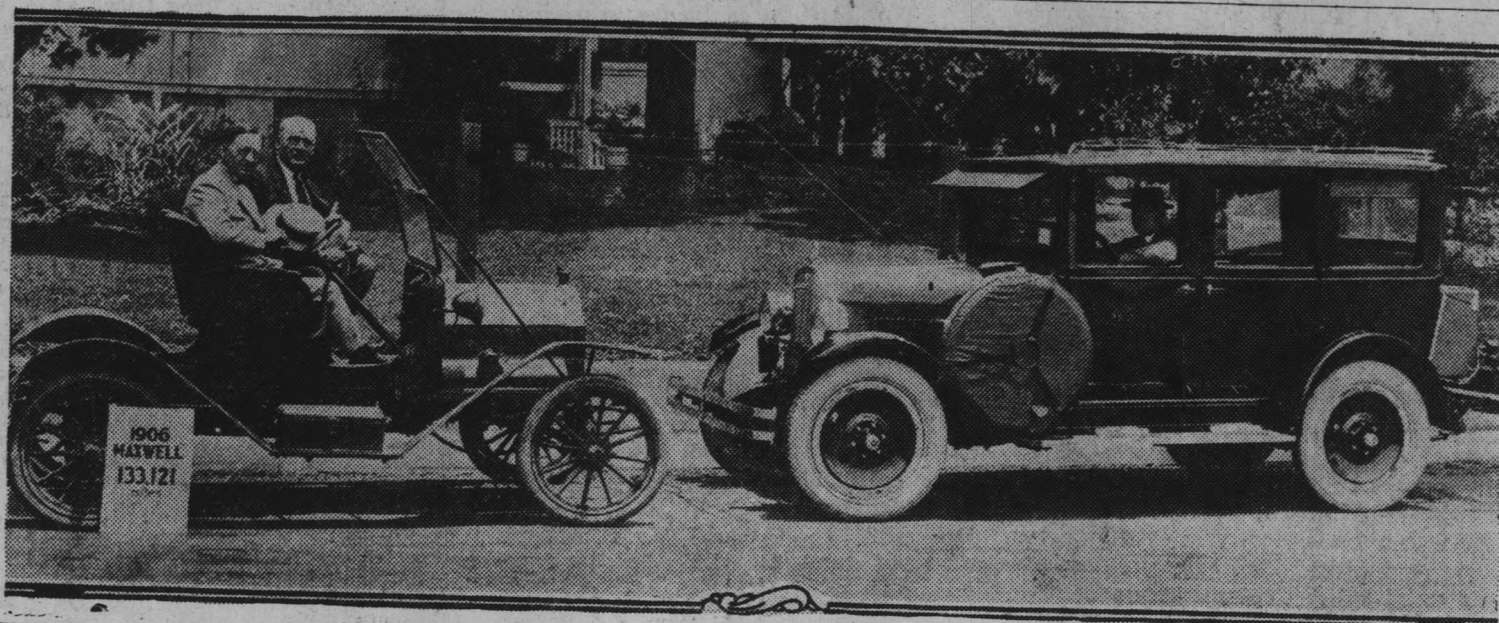

Laguna Beach is the acme of perfection as far as the camera fiend and the artist are concerned. So charming is this little town that it has come to be the leading artist colony in the southern end of the state. Dozens of painters of nation and world-wide fame are there—some live there the year around so that they may reproduce all-year scenes, while others, many others in fact, spend various portions of the year in and around Laguna. If you are seeking beauty and quiet you will find nothing so appealing as this little beach town.

The jaunt to Laguna may be made in one day, but the "inside" of this place, the life of the community, cannot be gained so quickly. It takes a day or two to get a glimpse of the workings, while a stay of a week or so, if one is observant, will put one pretty well in the running, as they say, so far as the honest-to-goodness life of Laguna is concerned. It will show you how the other fellow, the native of that place, lives.

All the way from Glendale to Laguna Beach the road is what may be termed, "as smooth as a table." In other words, from one end to the other it is a typical Southern California highway. This road is all that could be hoped for and

TRUCK DRIVERS ARE EVADING LAWS

Attorney General U. S. Webb has definitely curbed the activity of some California truck operators who seek to evade speed provisions of the Breed Motor Vehicle Act for heavily loaded machines.

Responding to District Attorney Fred C. Scott of Tulare county, the attorney general handed down an opinion this week that the capacity of a truck after it has been fully equipped by the owner, shall indicate its status under the Breed bill and that the original factory tonnage shall count for nothing in the eyes of the law.

Scott reported to Webb that truck drivers are sidestepping Section 22 of the Breed bill, which established a speed limit of 15 miles an hour for all vehicles carrying more than four tons.

"For instance," said Scott, "a man will buy a truck with a factory rating of two and one-half tons and equip it with rubber to carry four tons. He will then operate the vehicle over the public highways in excess of 15 miles an hour, contending that the factory rating exempts him from Section 22."

Asserting that Section 22 must be immediately clarified for the benefit of traffic officers and truck operators alike, Scott placed the matter before the attorney general. He took the attitude that equipment should be considered in arriving at the truck's actual weight classification.

Large trucking concerns, the Tulare county prosecutor indicated, are making a practice of equipping light vehicles with heavy rubber and subjecting them to four-ton loads on the theory that the Breed speed bill speed limit does not affect them.

The attorney general ruled as follows:

"I concur in your interpretation of Section 22 to the effect that it is that the factory rating of the capacity of truck which governs. A vehicle is affected by this provision exactly in accordance with the manner in which it is equipped or adapted for carrying loads."

BRAZILIANS FALL BEFORE YANKES

The exhibit of Buick and Cadillac cars by General Motors Export Company at the Brazilian Centennial, now in progress at Rio, has been awarded the grand prize.

The award was based, not alone on the beauty and completeness of the exhibit itself, but also upon the history, production, performance and reputation of the exhibitors.

OLD TIME 'MAX' MAKES BIG HIT

Car Made in 1906 Is Still in Runnable
Condition

Two of the good old substantial citizens of Glendale are Mayor Spencer Robinson and Fred Deal, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company. They are shown in the photograph sitting in a 1906 Maxwell, one of the first Maxwell cars built, and which has been in service ever since, having gone 133,121 miles at the time the picture was taken, and is still giving good service.

Mayor Robinson was the first Maxwell dealer in Glendale, having taken on the Maxwell agency in 1906, and the first Fred Deal, who was then vice-chief for the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, and is today manager of the San Fernando valley district of the same company, in recognition of the many years of faithful service he has given that company.

At the time Spencer Robinson (who is now mayor of Glendale) took on the Maxwell agency he was in the real estate business. It was customary in those days for the automobile dealers to align themselves with the real estate dealers; prospects for the sale of automobiles were few and far between, and real estate prospects were in the same class. So that the two lines worked together. In speaking of the delivery of the 2 cylinder Maxwell to Fred Deal, Mayor Robinson said: "This was the first car I sold and I had never driven an automobile myself. I went in to the agency at Los Angeles and they turned the car over to me without any instructions; even the distributors in Los Angeles were new at the business. We had difficulty in getting the car together so that it would run; after a lot of hard work, and without any previous instructions I finally got the car out to Glendale and told him what little I knew about the car." Instructions were never given in those days; every one had to figure out how to drive his own automobile.

Fred Deal drove this car for about ten years, with practically no experience. He has placed an order for one of the Traveler Sedans, which will be delivered to him in the near future. Fred Deal drove this 2 cylinder Maxwell around the street the other day and said that he felt very much at home, and he gave Mayor Robinson a wild ride down the boulevard at a break-neck speed of about 15 miles per hour.

EASTERN WOMEN SIGN PLEDGES

The Woman's Club of New Rochelle, N. Y., has sent each of its members a card to be signed pledging the members to observe the following road regulations:

To give proper signal when stopping or turning.
To turn corners and enter cross streets slowly.
Drive not faster than 20 miles an hour within city limits.
To park within six inches of the curb and to observe "no parking" signs.
Not to allow children under 18 to drive unaccompanied by owner of car.

Schoffner moves to new home. A. M. Schoffner, agent for the Rickenbacker car in Glendale, who was formerly located at 120 South Maryland, is now situated at 107 East Colorado, where he is demonstrating the very latest models of the "Rick" car.

A suggestion. Open the drain at the bottom of the carburetor occasionally before starting the engine. Water or dirt will be drawn off in this manner and possible trouble may be avoided.

SPORTSMEN TO GET NEW OUTING MAPS

Good news for all auto owners who are planning their camping, fishing or hunting trips through California is contained in an announcement made recently from the Auto club that special maps showing the location of game have been issued by the club outing bureau.

These maps include Northwestern California and Southwestern Oregon, as well as Central California.

Just where you will find duck, quail, geese, trout and deer is shown plainly on the new club maps. Stations for pack animals, butter and eggs and boats are also shown. In addition to this information, the motorist can see at a glance just what roads will take him to the various sporting districts, and the National Forest Reserves are clearly indicated.

These new maps, which are of the folding variety, can be obtained at any office of the Auto club throughout the territory from San Luis Obispo south to the Mexican border.

GAS IN YOSEMITE REACHES LOW MARK

Sharp cuts in the price of gasoline have been made this year in Yosemite National Park and 80,000 motorists who will visit the park before the season is over will save many thousands of dollars in their fuel bills.

"Gas" at 25 cents in Yosemite Valley is the cheapest at which it has ever been sold in the park. Also, the same price prevails at Chinquapin, which is the junction of the Glacier point and Wawona roads, where the price in previous years has always been two cents above the Yosemite Valley basis, owing to the longer haulage; the reduction in the Chinquapin price was made possible by cooperation between the Yosemite National Park company, which operates the Chinquapin station, and the Standard Oil company, which supplies the gasoline, each of which consented to lop one cent off its price for the benefit of motorists.

The biggest reduction, however, and one of great importance now that the Tioga road is opening, is in the price of gasoline in Tuolumne Meadows. "Gas" was sold in the Meadows last year by the Yosemite National Park company at a loss, although the price was 55 cents per gallon; it was hauled from El Portal by truck nearly ninety miles over mountain roads which climbed 7,000 feet in the distance. This year, however, the price will be only 40 cents—and the story pauses until the thunder of applause dies down!

The new price has been made possible by establishment of new storage tanks at Mather Station on the Hetch Hetchy railroad, from where it will be hauled only about fifty miles to Tuolumne Meadows, the rise in elevation being less than half that encountered in the former haul.

NEW YORK AUTO HEROES GET MEDALS

In the hope of developing a new breed of heroes and starting a new era of chivalry, the New York State Hackmen's Protective League recently announced that a medal will be awarded each month to the chauffeur who performs the most spectacular public service in the interest of the public. Suggested performances are: Returning a $100,000 necklace to its owner; backing his cab up to a burning building, and rescuing women and children; taking an injured man run over by someone else to the hospital just in time to save his life; chasing down and capturing single-handed a carload of dangerous automobile bandits.

GRADE CROSSINGS MUST BE ELIMINATED, DECLARES PACIFIC ELECTRIC HEAD

"The Only Way That Accidents Between Trains and Autos Can Be Prevented Is by Separation of Grades," Says Experienced Official

IS WILLING TO COOPERATE IN SAFETY MOVE

Electric Railway Company Preparing to Install Crossing Signs at More Than 1000 Intersections; Growing Number of Autos Partly Responsible

In connection with the problem of grade crossings now receiving much consideration by press and public, D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway company, issues the following statement:

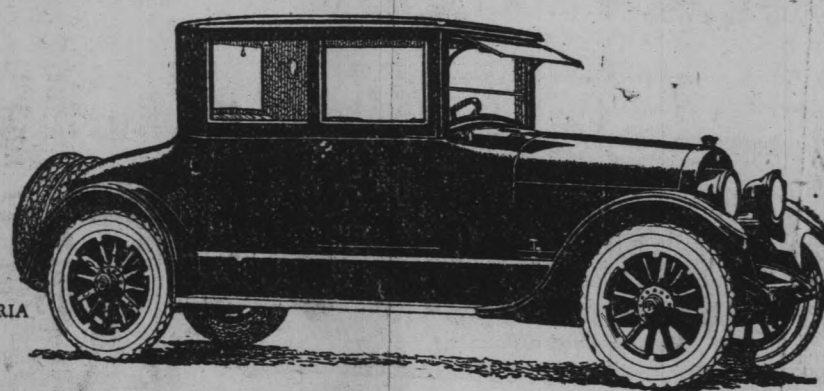

"The Pacific Electric railway was designed to be and, in fact is, the main-distributing system of transportation in Southern California; it is one of the adjuncts of the city of Los Angeles, and its success, and to a considerable extent the success of the territory through which it operates depends upon rapid transit. This company has at all times exercised a high degree of endeavor to attain safe operation; it has been in the forefront of the railroads of the United States in adopting safety devices and it was through its instrumentality that the present type of automatic flagging was developed to its present high degree of usefulness.

"The only way that accidents between trains and automobiles can be positively prevented is by separation of grades and in this the Pacific Electric is willing to join in conference at any time and cooperate with the state railroad commission, city authorities, Automobile Club of Southern California, and other organizations, to any reasonable financial bounds.

"The Pacific Electric has agreed to pay its share for the separation of grade crossing along the Los Angeles river, for which the city of Los Angeles voted bonds to the extent of $2,000,000 at the recent June election. Cooperation of the public and state and municipal authorities is absolutely essential in the separation of grade crossings.

"The Pacific Electric is doing everything possible to prevent accidents at grade crossings. We have installed along the lines, at 304 crossings, automatic wigs-wags, and will at once commence installation of 60 more. The automatic wig-wag is the most efficient protection of all provisions that can be made at grade crossings—far

WESTERN GIANT CARRIES MOTORISTS OF PACIFIC COAST TOWNS BY STORM

Wonderful Automobile Casing, Which Is Put Out by Western Auto Supply Co. Has Unprecedented Growth in Western Part of Country

WAS INTRODUCED TWENTY MONTHS AGO

This Casing Has Most Expensive Type of Tread, Has Wide, Flat Surface, Is Non-Skid, and Is Made of Best Grade of Rubber Procurable

Now that twenty months have elapsed since the debut of the Western Giant Cord, we can look back over the period of time and trace the steady growth of this tire, which proved a revelation to the Western motorist—a revelation from the standpoint of service and dependability. This popularity is evidenced each day by the hundreds of motorists who are trying one and then deciding they want these tires all around.

"Western Auto" said: "In perfecting the 'Western Giant' the radical departure from the usual form of construction is made in the design and construction of the tread. Tire manufacturers claim that, while a durable and soundly constructed carcass is the necessary foundation of a good tire, the tread itself has in its design the general construction which makes for long mileage, traction and freedom from skidding.

"It seems that in the 'Western Giant' tread the manufacturers have covered all points effectively. In addition to having the most expensive type of carcass, the tread, which is flat surfaced and very thick, is built right up on the top—therefore, when the tread is worn out, nearly all the rubber is gone, no waste rubber remains on the side of the carcass. The rubber is placed where it is needed and where it will be used.

"The wide, flat surface of the tread, with its scientifically placed blocks and buttresses, according to tire engineers, is the assurance of perfect traction.

"There is a row of suction cups down the center of the tread. These, together with the high tapering bars at the side, form a non-skid contact which holds securely to slippery pavements and renders use of skid chains unnecessary.

In connection with the introduction of this new type, George Popperding, president of 'Western Auto,' said:

"We have been selling tires for a good many years, and at the same time studying tires, and when we decided upon the design and form of construction of Western Giant tires, the decision was based upon our experience and knowledge of what motorists want and need in a tire.

"This tire is made with our own moulds and according to the very best standards of construction by three of the most modern equipped tire factories in the United States, which are striving to produce the immense quantity necessary to supply demand occasioned through 75 'Western Auto' stores.

"There are two policies in the manufacture and merchandising of any article. One is to figure what people will pay for it and then to do the best for that price; the other is to build the utmost of quality, strength and service into the product and then sell it for the lowest possible price conducive with big production and economical distribution.

"In the making and selling of Western Giant tires, as in our other merchandise, we are adhering strictly to the latter policy," concluded Mr. Popperding.

Today users admit that the tire has lived up to the claims made for it. During the first four months of this year over 55 carloads of tires were shipped to the 'Western Auto' chain of over 75 stores.

POOR TUBE WILL WRECK CASING

A leaky inner tube is a parasite of the tire mileage. Even a slow leak will handicap a tire and sap the life of the casing. In a few miles, underinflation will rob the tire of many miles of service. Leaky tubes come from a variety of causes. It may be that the valve plunger is worn or sticks; the lock-nut at the base of the valve stem may work loose; or running flat may honeycomb the inside of the tube with tiny holes through which air constantly seeps out.

Particles of rust off the rim often cut the tubes also. Though these holes are too small to be seen by the naked eye, they leak enough air to reduce pressure ten or fifteen pounds in a week.

KISSEL TO TRY FOR MORE LAURELS

Having added one more feat to its growing list of superior motor performances by being the first fully equipped car ever to climb Mount Wilson in high gear, carrying two passengers, the Kissel is now looking over the Southern California scenery for a suitably severe setting for its next test.

At least, so it is intimated by Nelson & Burr, 108 East Colorado, Kissel distributors. In fact, when approached on the subject yesterday they as much as admitted that plans were already being made for a test which it is hinted will eclipse in stamina proving strenuousness every other automotive performance on record. Just whether this proposed test would take the form of another gruelling high-gear hill climb, a long-distance speed run or a constant second-gear affair, it is not known.

Four times already this year, according to the automotive records, the Kissel has "done its stuff" in a way that has put it in the limelight of special attention from California motor fans. First there was the 1922 Camp Curry economy run, in which this car made a creditable showing in competition with lighter cars and bested its 1922 record in the same event. Then a Kissel, driven by Charles Holdson, pulled a thirty-day endurance stunt between Los Angeles and San Francisco, making a total of fifteen round trips between these two cities for a total of 13,050 miles in the month. Shortly afterward a Kissel standard phaeton climbed into Yosemite from Merced in high gear, earning the honor of being the first car ever to accomplish this feat. A little over a week ago came the Kissel high-gear climb up Mount Wilson.

"CAD." PLANT IS BEING ENLARGED

DETROIT, July 28.—Plans are complete for the erection by the Cadillac Motor Car company of three large groups of factory buildings for the production of gray iron, aluminum and brass castings. The buildings will cover ten acres.

USERS OF SAVAGES SAY THEY'RE O. K.

The satisfied customer is the best advertisement, according to E. V. Jellison of the Jellison Motor company, 1004 South Brand boulevard.

"If there is any doubt in the minds of the motorists of Glendale as to the wearing qualities of the Savages tires, which are handled by our company," said Mr. Jellison this morning, "I would like to refer you to some of the users of these tires—men and women who have tried them out, thoroughly and have found them everything that a tire should be. The following list of satisfied users of the Savages tires is given by Mr. Jellison:

Jack Wagner, 529 North Jackson, employee of the city of Glendale; George Hix, of the Glendale fire department, who would be glad to tell how the Savages tires work on his National; Capt. Ralph Dodsworth, of the Glendale fire department, who operates a Ford coupe; Mrs. Bert Roberts, 121 West Acacia avenue, who uses Savages on her beautiful machine; L. G. Scovern, 1000 South Brand, who has used these tires exclusively for two years, taking two trips to the Kern county hunting region and two trips to Big Bear valley; R. J. Corrigan, 222 South Brand boulevard, and George Hastings, 315 West Lexington drive.

"These are just a few," says Jellison, "there are many others."

HILLCLIMB SHOWS POWER OF OLDS

Most motor enthusiasts will recall the spectacular climb made by an Oldsmobile "four" at Hollywood early in 1921. This feat, which attracted national attention, consisted of negotiating the Calhoun Pass road (Hollywood mountain) in high gear with a load of fourteen adult passengers. This grade is approximately a mile long and varies from 7 per cent to nearly 10 per cent. The approach is such that a high speed start is impossible. Yet the "four" with its load of 2,282 pounds crossed the crest, where the pitch is steepest, at the rate of 21 miles per hour.

This remarkable demonstration of power acted simply as a challenge to Oldsmobile "four" enthusiasts the country over. Impossible climbs, so-called, were attempted and easily achieved. And the same thing has been going on ever since until almost any Oldsmobile "four" owner is willing to wager that his car will outclimb anything on wheels, anywhere, at any time.

The Olds is handled in Glendale by C. H. Hunter, 208-10 West Broadway.

"BEST SELLER" IS CHEVROLET COUPE

The Chevrolet coupe is proving to be one of the "best sellers" in the automobile market, a large number of sales of this type of machine having been made this year by the C. L. Smith company, corner Orange and Colorado, local agent for the Chevrolet.

One of the recent purchasers of this car is Miss Ethel Preston, an employee of the Security Trust and Savings bank. Miss Preston has driven a Chevrolet open car for three years, but since taking the delivery of the coupe this week she claims that hereafter it will be a "Chevy. coupe" for hers.

When drawing solution out of a battery for testing, always return it to its proper cell. Unless this is done the strength of the electrolyte in the various cells will naturally vary.

LAGUNA BEACH IS APPEALING TO VISITORS

nothing is left to the imagination. From Glendale you proceed down Brand boulevard across the Southern Pacific tracks, over the river, past Ivanhoe, and into Los Angeles via Glendale boulevard, Edendale and Figueroa street. Continue south on Figueroa street as far as Shattuck avenue and follow that street to Huntington Park. Continue through Huntington Park and on to Long Beach. The distance between Glendale and Long Beach is about 32 miles.

The distance between Long Beach and Santa Ana, the next "leg" of the trip, is about 21 miles, all of which is excellent road. In addition to giving the motorist a view of the agricultural "back country" lying between these two points, it also affords a charming ride of about six miles along the ocean front. Leave Long Beach on Ocean avenue, First street and Park boulevard. The town of Naples is first passed, after which comes Seal Beach and Anaheim Landing, where the road turns and strikes across country.

Westminster, 13 miles from Long Beach, is the next place passed, and just beyond this point the route turns south through Bolsa and on to Santa Ana.

From Santa Ana go out Main street and down First to Tustin. Then follow Laguna avenue as far as Irvine, at which point the coast route is left behind and the motorist hits across country through a typical mountain and canyon country to Laguna.

Along this stretch the motorist will receive a wonderful surprise. He will drive mile after mile through the canyon and soon will begin to wonder if he will ever come to the beach, when suddenly he will round a curve in the road, whereupon the town of Laguna, with its quaint setting, will spread out before him. It lies like a beautiful picture, the background of which is the charming expanse of the Pacific. It is such a "different" place.

The return trip may be made from Laguna to Santa Ana as on the outgoing jaunt, thence out Main street to Orange, then to Anaheim and on to Los Angeles and Glendale.

In order that the motorist's stay at Laguna, be it for a day, a week or a month, may be filled to the utmost with pleasure, it is absolutely necessary that satisfactory accommodations be secured while there. A great deal rests with the selection made along this line.

The Glendale Press automobile section suggests, as an ideal place to stop while there, the Laguna Beach Villa. This villa consists of 50 modern one, two and three room cottages, completely furnished for housekeeping, situated artistically among a wonderful grove of eucalyptus trees. The furnishings of these cottages are in keeping with the surroundings. Every cottage is equipped with sleeping room, kitchenette, toilet and shower, while a few sleeping rooms, without housekeeping facilities, are equipped with lavatories.

There is a large ten-room court, with six kitchenettes, which accommodates 30 people. The entire large area is enclosed with a fence which lends an air of privacy. The grounds and cottages are lighted by electricity. A bird aviary and fish aquarium, together with beautiful flowers and shrubs, tend to make the place homelike. The villa is open the year around, and the rates are extremely moderate.

Guests, in the cottage are entitled to all the privileges of the lounge, which is beautifully furnished. Here can be found periodicals, daily papers and requisites for correspondence. Social affairs are arranged by the hostess. A delicatessen is operated in connection with the villa. Upon the sun parlor is an observation room. There is a playground for the kiddies. The villa is directly opposite the bank and post office.

The policy of Laguna Beach Villa is service. Everyone, from the hostess to the office cat, is congenial and does everything possible to show the guests a good time.

Laguna Beach offers many things in the recreation line. There is excellent fishing, in the surf and from the rocks; bathing, hiking, both in the hills and along the beach, dancing, etc., while there is an excellent movie theatre, art gallery and other features.

The folks at Laguna are a friendly sort. They greet you with a "glad hand" and send you home with a "come again" ringing in your ears, which invitation, incidentally, is generally accepted. You'll like Laguna Beach.

CLEAN OIL IS GOOD FOR MOTOR

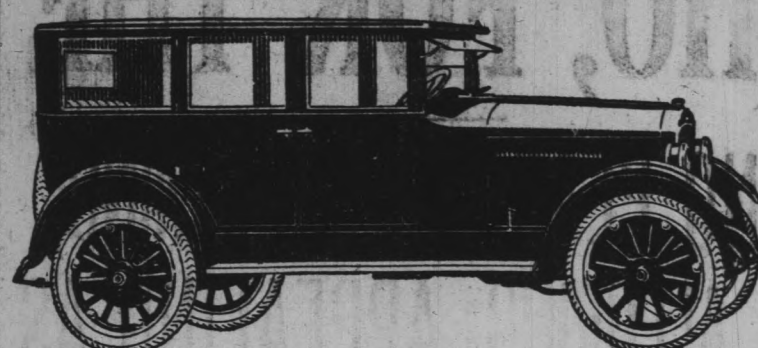

Wise motorists, after driving a new car about 500 miles, drain the oil from the crank case, give it a thorough cleaning and refill with fresh oil. This operation should be repeated at least every additional thousand miles during the life of the car. It is of great importance in prolonging the life of the car in that it keeps the motor free from particles of grit, metal, sediment and other foreign substances which find their way into the inner workings.

Similar treatment should be accorded tires. At the end of every 2,500 miles of service, a tire should be removed from the rim, deflated, and all soapstone and grit removed. The inside of the casing should be washed with clean gasoline and after drying should be dusted with talc.

EFFICIENT STEERING

When steering sharply to avoid hitting something, always apply the brake at the same time. Steering can be used as a safety measure, but never depend upon it. Stopping and steering will produce best results.

HOWLING BRAKES

Brakes squeal when they are glazed or improperly adjusted. Squeaking often can be stopped by removing wheels and roughening the brake lining with a file. If the lining is worn down to the rivets, sink the rivets or have the brakes relined. Wipe off an oil brake mechanism every 500 miles or oftener. Make regular systematic brake inspection a habit.

'GRADE CROSSINGS' MUST GO! SAYS P. E. OFFICIAL

Freight trains off of Alameda street and route them along the east side of the river. This, together with the viaducts along the river, would largely solve the steam railroad grade crossing problem in the industrial district.

"If the plan for a union depot at the Plaza was eliminated, the railway companies would be in a position to go ahead at once with their plan, without calling upon the public for any assistance except in a small way at Aliso street.

"The Pacific Electric will, as soon as authorized to do so by the city, commence construction of a tunnel and terminal under Pershing square at a cost of $4,200,000 new money, and if denied use of Pershing square, the terminal will be placed on Hill street between Fourth and Fifth streets, as originally planned. The building of this tunnel will eliminate 21 grade crossings for interurban cars, remove from Hill street the major portions of the Hollywood cars, and from Sixth street all of the Glendale-Burbank cars.

"Keeping in mind these things, I believe it will be generally agreed that the Pacific Electric is doing, and is willing to continue to do, its part toward the elimination of grade crossings and the relief of traffic congestion, which goes hand in hand.

"You ask the cause for the exceptional toll of lives due to grade crossing accidents during the past year.

"My investigation shows that with the tremendous growth in population of Southern California, great numbers of strangers are driving automobiles who are not accustomed to driving in heavily congested districts and this in connection with the prosperity in this country, means that everyone is in a hurry and will not spare the time to 'stop, look and listen' forms a bad combination.

"It has been suggested that all trains slow down to 15 miles per hour when passing over grade crossings. Traffic experts agree that this would not help the situation. At grade crossings where trains slow down, the reckless automobile driver will dash ahead of the train, taking the chance of getting by, and as the usual thing it is the reckless driver who comes to grief. From childhood we have been taught that a railroad crossing is in itself a thing of danger. The users of the highways must be alert and watchful until it is possible to make all crossings safe for the reckless and the careless.

"The question of safety for travelers does not apply only to grade crossings, but to all train operations, and arrangements are being made to, in the near future, block signal some of our main lines, which will represent an expenditure in excess of one-half million dollars. When these block signals are once installed, it means a heavy additional maintenance cost to the company."

TWO PARKING POINTERS

The best way to determine whether a space is large enough for parking the car is to proceed to go through the preliminaries of parking by driving ahead of the space, close to and parallel with the car ahead. In passing the space it is easy enough to tell whether it will accommodate the car.

When the car ahead has been parked in such a way that the rear end is half way out into the street the easiest way to get out of your space is to back out. It will require a little maneuvering, but less work than to attempt to leave the space in the usual way.

"CAD." MAKES GOOD RECORD

An average of 242 miles per day for seven days was the interesting experience of Berkeley Brandt, who recently drove his type 61 Cadillac from Chicago to Los Angeles. Brandt drove from Chicago to St. Louis, a distance of 364 miles in one day, and then averaged 200 miles per day for the balance of the trip. At Albuquerque his speedometer registered 1692 miles.

The information was received by Will Court of the Court Motor company, Cadillac dealer, at 235 South Brand.

GOOD CORDS MAKE WONDERFUL RECORD

How many little "white lies" do you tell? Ninety people out of every 100 have some physical ailment, and yet not one person in 10 will admit that he is not feeling well if accosted with the familiar "How are you this morning?"

These observations led Charles H. Holdson (Endurance Charlie) to an extensive study of human ills and their underlying causes, with the result that several interesting and instructive conclusions were reached. For instance, white flour has been refined down to a part of the wheat which has very little nourishment, and foods prepared with it merely form a paste in the digestive system. White sugar and its products are in the same classification.

Foods that are nourishing may become poisons when mixed with each other, and the system must work overtime in order to throw off these poisons. Natural elimination processes call for considerable exercise in order to induce perspiration, bringing in to action thousands of pores in the skin in which catch foreign substances in the blood, excreting them in this manner.

No one who has followed Endurance Charlie in his demonstration of the effectiveness of his system of living can possibly doubt the merit of his discoveries. To drive the N-Durance Essex through the mountains 15 hours a day for 30 consecutive days, calls for physical perfection of the highest degree, and now that the run is over, he is looking and feeling better than when he started. His weight has remained the same throughout the test, 151 pounds to 152½ pounds.

The car came through the grind with colors flying. Not one mechanical difficulty was encountered, and no work was done on the car except the regular greasing and oiling at the conclusion of each 250 miles.

Five punctures constituted the only tire trouble, and the original Rapson Cords are still on the wheels, two of which have worn down to the breaker-strip, the other two show very little wear. This set of tires has been driven 2,500 miles before starting on the 7,000-mile mountain trip—the worst punishment that could be found in Southern California.

PICNICING IN SAFETY

The plan of straightening roads when rebuilding them has an advantage which is just coming to light. The unused section of the old road make ideal places for the motor tourist to stop for his picnic lunch without blocking the high-speed traffic. Usually the man on tour hasn't time to look for choice picnic spots, and so invariably winds up by stopping along the main road. Under the new plan he can munch his sandwiches without danger of becoming one himself.

WORKMEN IN CAD FACTORY ARE PROTECTED

In its constant search for new methods of protecting its craftsman against industrial accidents, the manufacturing department of the Cadillac Motor car company, after a series of experiments, has developed an original method for handling powerful acids used in pickling steels to prevent rust.

These acids are received at the factory in carboys, which are large, globular glass receptacles, enclosed in wooden containers, reminding one of the big bottles of filtered water used in cafeterias. According to usual factory practice they are dumped by two men into the vats of boiling mixture.

The operation is much the same as that in a restaurant when busboys invert bottles of filtered water over a drinking fountain. But there the similarity ends. Water splashing from a fountain or flowing from a broken bottle is harmless. The sudden breaking of a carboy of acid, either from the splashing of the boiling vat or from the slipping of fingers in an unguarded moment, is nearly akin to releasing liquid fire.

These facts are given by W. H. Court of the Court Motor company, Cadillac dealer, 235 South Brand.

SALE OF JEWETTS FIRST YEAR LARGE

DETROIT, July 28.—Jewett six sales of $50,000,000 in its first 17 months, as announced by President H. M. Jewett of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car company, have caused interested comment in motor circles. In the opinion of many it shows the public's willingness to invest in extraordinary motor car value whenever offered.

Rarely has this sales record of Jewett six been equaled. In the first nine months, 21,880 Jewetts were sold. As the Paige factory facilities were increased, deliveries went up until the 4,000-car-per-month mark was reached and held, starting in April this year. The end of the seventeenth month showed 46,780 Jewett sixes sold, representing over $50,000,000.

Analysis shows that artificial sales effort could not have provided such a demand for a new car; value alone was responsible in the opinion of those experienced in selling automobiles.

When the Jewett six, having 50 horsepower, was produced to sell around a thousand dollars, an epoch was marked in automobile merchandising. Such a six, having all the distinguished performance of more costly cars, and costing much less, commanded interested attention wherever cars were sold.

H. M. Jewett and his associates had carefully gauged the field awaiting such a car but their estimates were over-run. The appeal of great power, amazing performance and big car riding ease at moderate price, created the "run-away" demand that has marked Jewett's record.

The Jewett is handled in Glendale by Ralph E. Bliss, 306 East Colorado.

PACKARD SWELLS REGISTRATION

In the job of helping shove the California motor car registration past the million mark, Packard did more than its share, according to registration figures for the first half of 1923, as compiled by Motor Registration News.

"Packard's registrations for the first six months of this year showed an increase of 88 per cent over those of the same period in 1922," says the manager of the Dixie Packard company, 510 East Broadway, last week. "In view of the fact that virtually all of the Packard business for the first six months of this year was on the Single Six model alone, we consider this showing very gratifying."

"For the latter half of the year Packard should considerably exceed this figure, to judge by the rate Single Eight orders are now coming in addition to the Single Six business. Factory production has been set at the rate of 500 cars per month for the Single Eight, which should mean that by early fall the Single Eights should be reaching California in fairly good volume. Single Six production at the factory is crowding two thousand cars per month."

Selling a City That is Sold on Itself

FABULOUS profits, vigorous growth, up-to-the-minute civic improvements, and a general atmosphere of prosperity and happiness are immediately suggested by the very name of GLENDALE.

You who live here, and who daily profit by the phenomenal growth of Glendale know the truth—you have seen at least a portion of the transformation that has elevated Glendale to a high rank among the cities of the West in the last three years and you believe in the inevitable growth of Glendale to come in the immediate future.

You are sold on Glendale—and 42,000 others are sold on Glendale too—and have proved it by settling here to join hands in the mighty forward movement that is to continue right here as long as Southern California remains the goal of all America.

Today the tide of incoming Americans is flooding the entire Southwest at an ever mounting rate.

Today is the time to reach thousands of these prosperous, energetic new comers with the marvelous story of Glendale.

Today the first message of united Glendale is hard at work turning the thoughts of many of these good people towards our forward-marching city.

Today you should begin to study out the best way in which you can help to sell Glendale to the rest of the world, thus cooperating in the present campaign headed by the Chamber of Commerce but cordially supported by every other organized group of citizens in the city.

The result of all our united efforts will make the name Glendale mean bigger, richer life to more people every year.

It is easy to sell others on a city that is sold on itself.

Glendale

In the heart of Metropolitan Los Angeles

FORWARD-MARCHING Glendale must GROW!—bigger—better—richer—with ever increasing momentum, as surely as the great tide of American population swings westward.

Ceaseless streams of prosperous people seeking better homes and happier lives flow into the great metropolitan area of Los Angeles month after month and year after year, bringing money, energy and opportunity—and Glendale, like a WEDGE OF GOLD piercing nearly to the center of this great metropolitan area, presents, we believe the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY OF ALL.

Study the map,—consider the value making location of this wonderful city,—at the focal point of rail and highway serving the great growing communities of Pasadena and Hollywood,—but CLOSER to Los Angeles center than either!—Glendale holds the KEY POSITION in the growth of a mighty city.

Let facts alone tell the story.

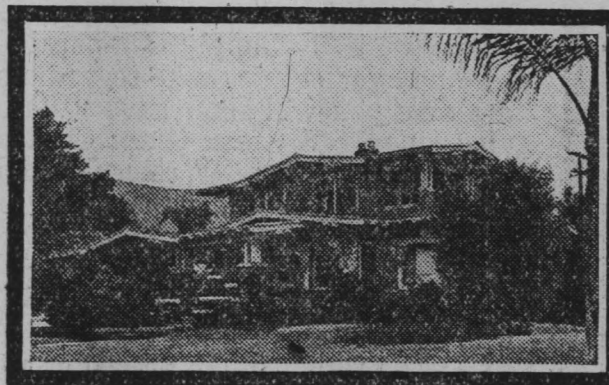

Population in 1920—13,356. Population now over 42,000 with all the increasing values that such a wild-fire growth brings, enriching directly every citizen and property holder in Glendale. Note the actual figures of the sale and resale of the charming Glendale home shown on the right, not an extreme case at all, only one of hundreds equally profitable.

And this marvelous growth is just beginning.—TODAY Glendale holds greater opportunities for happiness and profit than ever before.

Facts, not guesses will bring you sooner or later to Glendale. Call on our secretary at once for reliable information or if you can't call, write for the complete story of Glendale in a new booklet just off the press.

Glendale
Chamber of Commerce

The Fastest Growing City in America

This Glendale home in a strictly residence district was purchased first for $12,500 and 24 months later it sold for $21,000, making a monthly profit of $354 for two years. These typical figures and many others even more startling are on file at the Chamber of Commerce for your inspection.

Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

I want to know why Glendale is NOW the best place in Southern California for me to live and invest.

This is our plan of campaign

1. In order to reach the greatest number of possible future citizens at the least expense per person, the following schedule of advertising has been adopted—watch for the advertisements:

Yesterday, the Los Angeles Examiner. Next Thursday, August 3rd, Los Angeles Times.

One week later, August 10th, Los Angeles Evening Herald.

This same schedule will then be repeated every three weeks throughout the year.

2. In order to answer everybody's questions, a carefully prepared fully illustrated booklet has been compiled and is now on the press. Copies will be sent with a personal letter from the Chamber of Commerce to every outsider who asks for information about Glendale.

3. Artistic signboards will be erected as funds permit at the various gateways to Glendale, informing new comers about the unusual advantages of this particular location.

This is the way it is paid for

The advertising service fund of the Chamber of Commerce is kept up by popular subscription and by 60 per cent of membership fees. The present campaign is made possible by the public-spirited citizens who recently joined, or who have long supported the Chamber of Commerce.

The functions of this body are necessary to the organized selling campaign which every progressive municipality must maintain. Your support is necessary, too, if you have not already contributed.

This is what you can do to help

1. Sell Glendale to every outsider you talk to. Tell the truth as you see it, sincerely and as forcefully as you can—and tell it often.

2. Contribute to the advertising service fund of the Chamber of Commerce, and get all the organizations of which you are a member to actively support the campaign to make our city grow.

3. Help the committee in getting facts that can be used in a convincing way to tell our story better. You will note in the present advertisement reproduced on this page that a map is used to locate Glendale for the newcomer, and a photograph is used of a home that increased in value $8,500 in two years.

We know that the rate of increase here shown is not by any means extraordinary for Glendale. But the more times we can tell this story and the more photographs and signed statements of similar increases in value that we can secure, the more convincing we will be.

Dig up these valuable facts for us, send us signed statements, and help us prove what we know to be true, that every foot of property in Glendale is a good investment, and that this prosperous condition, plus our other natural advantages, makes Glendale the best place to live in the entire United States.

All Lots Are Large—60x160 Feet—Plenty Big Enough for Home of the Better Class—Each Home-site Commands Wonderful View of Valley

The very mention of the beautiful northwest brings, to the person who likes wonderful scenery and fresh air, visions of one of the most wonderful sections in the country. I bring mental pictures of a beautiful home, with flowers and shrubbery, pretty trees and maybe a hedge or two of evergreens—a wonderful, roomy back yard with the inevitable garden patch, without which no home is really complete and an assortment of fruit trees and the family uses—everything of the finest variety. Then there is the little play yard for the kiddies with its sand-pile and swings and every that would tend to make the lives of the little one more happy and contented.

There is, also, the lawn around various parts of the home place, with the rosevine or the trailing ivy climbing over the porch or against the side of the home and the concrete work.

No other section in the country brings these visions as does the wonderful northwest, and there is a reason. In fact, it might be said that there are a number of reasons, all of which combine to make that locality one of the most charming imaginable for the purpose of constructing "the" home.

There is all the difference in the world in buildings that are constructed as homes. It is all a question of the mind. If the builder's object in putting up the dwelling is to hold it a little while, then to sell it at a profit of a thousand or two dollars, the home is simply a place in which to hang your hat—nothing more. It is a place where you can go when the doors of all the places of amusement in the city are closed, when, in fact, there is nowhere else to go.

But there is a difference with the structure that is erected as "that" home. There is a different atmosphere, a different meaning. Everything is different. It is not a question of will this or that feature add to the sale price of the property, but, rather, do we want it this or that way. Yes, it is different. One home is built for some one else to live in, the other is

Roger W. Babson Declares Young Folks Are Too Reckless

Dislike for Work

Young People Seem to Think Dollar Bills Grow on Nearby Trees

By ROGER W. BABSON

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., July 27.—Roger W. Babson was today asked why it is that he is not so optimistic on the general business situation when so many of the barometers of business indicate great prosperity. The optimistic forecasts of prominent bankers, manufacturers, and financial advisers were called to Mr. Babson's attention and he was frankly asked why a warning was needed under present stable conditions.

His reply was as follows: "It is true that a number of barometers of business are distinctly favorable at the present time. In order to be absolutely fair to everyone I even took pains to enumerate these in a published statement only a month ago. The merchants are not overstocked; manufacturers have not been speculating in raw materials; banks have good resources; check transactions are normal; railroad earnings are exceptionally good, and our great industries are apparently on a sound basis. My critics are correct in their statement that surface indications point to a wonderful business this fall, and perhaps two or three years of rising prices. I realize these rising figures as well as anyone and it is very hard for me to sound a warning while so many are so optimistic and so contented.

Suddenly the mute smiled; he wrote, "I remember. I gave my wife the pencil."

Argument With Mute Consumes Much Paper

With regard to the cleaning of Brand and Broadway near the intersection of these streets on Sunday morning, Chief of Police Fraser, to whom this matter was referred a week ago, made the following report Thursday night to the Glendale city council: "My investigation developed the fact that the rubbish and paper in large quantities collect on the corner on Saturday night and Sunday morning. The street cleaning department takes care of the street intersection each week on Sunday only. I do not think the placing of rubbish cans would have the desired effect for the reason that all the trash and paper is thrown into the street on Saturday night by the great number of people who shop Saturday evening. Furthermore, the great number of extra newspapers that come into town on Saturday night help to increase the volume of paper on the streets.

"If we had cans on the corner they would not be used to such extent as to eliminate the condition now existing. A great deal of the rubbish and papers is blown out of the alleys into which it is thrown from the back doors of the stores of a great many of the stores. Up to a short time ago we had a street cleaner who was on the job early Sunday morning to take care of this condition, but at the present time there is no one cleaning the streets on Sunday morning, therefore it leaves the streets, especially those in the region of Brand and Broadway, in a very dirty and unsightly condition for the thousands of tourists who go through the city on Sunday.

GLENOAKS CONTEST WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

After a delay of a week in making final selection of the best word-pictures of their attractive Glenoaks subdivision in Glendale, the Frank Melne company announces that the decision of the judges is as follows:

First award, $100, M. Millar, 600 North Andrews boulevard, Los Angeles. Second award, $75, Louis A. Marcotte, 3561 Glasse avenue, Los Angeles. Third award, $50, Mrs. J. E. Manning, 1357 Shatto street, Los Angeles. Fourth award, $25, Mrs. L. L. Lindley, 4205 Glen Muir avenue, Los Angeles. Five $10 awards were made to Ralph A. Lynd, 510 West Broadway, Glendale; Charles Norton, 1009 Diamond avenue, Los Angeles; Margaret M. Kerber, 1424 Hayworth avenue, Hollywood; Laura Doan, 614 North Howard street, Glendale, and Harry Rom, 417 North Maryland avenue, Glendale.

City manager Reeves of Glendale, John Powers, member of the Glenoaks syndicate, owners of Glenoaks, and Haskell Hall, tract manager for the Frank Melne company acted as judges.

While it was planned to make the awards last Sunday, it is said that so many word-pictures came in the last day, and that there were so many excellent contributions that the judges found it impossible to give the manuscripts a thorough reading and make their decisions in time for publication to be made last Sunday.

After going over the several hundred of "Class A" descriptions, the choice of the judges finally narrowed down to twenty-four. From this group the best nine were then selected in the order named.

In making their decisions, the judges were guided by the rules laid down at the outset of the contest. Since most of the word-pictures ran over the allotted 150 words, it was decided to allow a little "leeway" in this connection, although those that were considerably over the limit were barred from the prizes. Many of the best descriptions were included in this group.

The descriptions were judged on the basis of their visualizing the tract and its attractions for the person who had not seen it—in other words, for the ability of the description to conjure in the minds of the reader an accurate picture of the tract.

All the judges were familiar with the tract and were able to determine if these pictures were accurate.

MAKES EFFORT TO STABILIZE BUILDING

The working out through nationwide co-operation of possible steps toward stabilization of the nation's construction industry is a plan of the department of commerce which the National Association of Real Estate boards will participate through the appointment of its president, L. F. Eppich, of Denver, to membership in the representative committee for study of seasonal activities in the building industry recently appointed by Secretary Hoover. The committee, made up of employers, labor leaders, engineers and architects, held its organization meeting in Atlantic City last week.

Sharp fluctuations in building costs, resulting in part from sharp seasonal variations in building activity, have a pronounced effect on the amount of building which may be depended upon to relieve the recognized national shortage of homes and business construction, it is pointed out. The Hoover committee has been appointed with the idea in mind that concentration of construction into seven to ten months of the year, as is done under present practice, has been due perhaps more to custom than to weather, and could, perhaps, be remedied through co-operation of the factors affected, if the committee, as a national investigatory body, is able to work a solution.

THE "TROUBLE SHOOTER"

TIMELY TIPS FOR NEW CAR OWNERS

By E. H. SCOTT

How to Drive Your New Car the First 1000 Miles

How often have you heard the remark "Oh, the car is just a piece of junk, after you have run it a few months, it rattles like an old tin can, pumps oil, and costs a small fortune in repair bills." I have heard that remark many times during the years I have been in the automobile business. It is a remark frequently made to the unfortunate service manager, and is, in most cases, very unjust and not at all deserved by the car. It is quite useless to tell the owner that he is the man who is responsible for all this "grief." It is true, however, in 99 cases out of 100.

The life of your engine depends very largely on the way you drive and operate your car during the first 1,000 miles you run it. A fast pace will shorten the life of a motor just as surely as a fast and merry life will shorten the life of a man or woman.

The first 1,000 miles a car is run, is the most critical in its history, and your treatment of it during this time, will determine to a very large extent the amount of useful service you will get from it, and amount of money you will ultimately pay in repair and overhaul bills.

During the first 500 miles you run a new car, do not under any circumstances, exceed a speed of 20 miles an hour. During the following 500 miles, do not exceed a speed of 25 miles an hour. Do not allow the motor to race unnecessarily, or you will surely pay for it in repair bills. Do not allow the engine to labor on high gear. If it starts to slow down and labor, change down at once to a lower gear.

It is difficult for a man who has had no mechanical training to understand why, if a new engine appears to run nice and smoothly and with apparently plenty of power, this extreme care should be taken.

Perhaps this little illustration which you WILL be able to understand will make it plain to you. Suppose you were a man who had never taken any strenuous exercise, then all at once decided to take a walk of 20 miles and determined to complete the distance at the rate of 6 miles an hour. If you ever completed that walk, how do you think you would feel at the end of it, and how do you think it would affect you. You know you would be stiff for a week or more after, and might even do your system serious injury.

Suppose, on the other hand, that you decided first to get into condition by taking a walk of 2 miles a day the first week, then 3 miles a day the next week, 4 miles a day the following week, and so on until the time you have reached the point where you are going to perform the 20 mile task, you will be limbered up and able to do the walk with ease and without harming yourself.

Now can you see the point. Treat your car right by giving it a chance to limber up before you go after any speed records. Let the other fellow pass you if he wants to. Take it gently during this first 1,000 miles, then you will get two, perhaps three years service from your car before it will be necessary to spend a dollar on an overhaul. Speed up and race your engine, and inside twelve months an expensive overhauling is necessary. The reason why a large number of cars soon become regular customers at the repair shop, is just because they were speeded up and never given a chance during that critical first 1,000 miles.

However, money spent in repair bills is not the only price you will have to pay for your speed. When you do not allow the engine to be limbered up slowly, and it is speeded and raced up when it is new, it is very often the cause of turning a perfectly good engine into a time-consuming cylinder, casting to warp or the cylinders walls become scored. When this happens the pistons rings can't make a perfect oil seal or hold compression, with the result that oil is pumped up on top of the pistons and causes the spark plugs to foul very frequently. In addition to oiled up spark plugs, the cylinders will carbon up quickly and before long the engine starts to knock and overheat. If the valve seats or stems become warped, it is impossible for the valves to seat properly and a serious loss of power is the result.

Now, remember you can eliminate all the above troubles by giving the engine just half a chance to limber up. When you hear of a certain car of 1914 or 1915 vintage that is still going strong, you can just bet your last dollar that that car was carefully driven the first thousand miles, and all the other thousands of miles it has been driven since then.

Cars are being built better today than they have ever been built before. Better steel have been developed, production methods improved, and more accurate machinery to turn out the car parts etc., are in use in every plant. The cars that are being built today are as far ahead of the cars of a few years ago, as the electric light is ahead of gas light.

Remember first, last and all the time, the service you are going to get from your car, will depend to a very large extent on the way you drive and the care you give it, in much the same way as your own health depends on the way you look after it.

BACK YARD EGG MAKING IS IN BULLETIN

A small flock of hens instead of a large garbage can means a sizeable balance on the side of thrift. In a nutshell, that is the essence contained in the 20 pages of Farmers' Bulletin 1331, Back-Yard Poultry Keeping, just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. It is a revision of a former bulletin and contains many new suggestions and conveniences that will be useful to flock owners in villages, small towns and suburbs.

Various uses are now made of the table waste collected from homes in towns and suburbs, but practically the only use that may be made of it on the premises is as feed for chickens, and this use, according to the bulletin, can be made very profitable if the birds are properly selected for laying qualities and are given good housing and care. It is assumed that each hen in her pullet year will produce at least 10 dozen eggs, a reasonable requirement of only 1 egg every 3 days. The size of the back-yard flock seldom should go below 10 hens. Ten birds laying eggs at the specified rate will produce 100 dozen in a year, which at the conservative price of 40 cents a dozen will make the flock income $40 a year.

The bulletin is really a handbook designed to answer any question that may come up in the mind of the owner of a small flock. It covers such subjects as the kind of fowls to keep, the size of the flock, procuring stock, housing, arrangement and sanitation of yards, feeding, lice and mites, hatching and raising chicks, culling the hens, preserving eggs, and practical pointers.

Plans and bills of materials are given for making houses of low cost and houses that will fit various conditions. Details are given on interior equipment such as roosts, dropping boards, nest boxes, and coops for broody hens. It is suggested, for instance, that an orange box can be made into 2 good nests simply by nailing a narrow strip of board along one side to hold in the straw. The advantages of a double yard are discussed, and one paragraph tells of the value of a mulberry tree in supplying succulent feed for 3 weeks. There is a description of an interesting device for providing fresh green feed by growing oats through three-quarter inch mesh poultry wire stretched on a frame a short distance from the ground to keep the hens from killing out the plants.

Copies of the bulletin may be obtained by writing to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., as long as the supply lasts.

750 REAL ESTATE AGENTS LOCATED IN GLENDALE

So Says the State Realty Directory Bulletin
of City

Real estate vendors of Glendale who have just received the California Real Estate Directory Bulletin in which all real estate brokers and salesmen who had been licensed prior to March 31, 1923, are listed, have found it quite an interesting document. To Glendale is assigned 12 1/2 pages of the names of those who have licenses. As there are about sixty names to the page, it means that approximately 750 agents have been licensed to carry on a real estate business in this city. Besides these a good many Glendale residents are conducting a real estate business in Los Angeles who are not credited to Glendale.

REALTY DECISION OF IMPORTANCE RENDERED

Justice Chase Holds Unlicensed Person Can Recover Commission

A decision of considerable interest in real estate circles was recently rendered by Judge Harry W. Chase in the case of Burris vs. Goodman which involved a fine point in the interpretation of the real estate act of this state. In making his decision, Judge Chase followed the recent ruling of the Supreme Court.

The act makes it unlawful for any licensed broker or real estate agent to pay a commission for performing any of the acts specified in the real estate law to any person who is not a licensed broker or salesman.

Another portion of the same act provides: "One act for compensation in buying or selling real estate for another or offering for another to buy or sell or exchange real estate, to negotiate a loan on, or leasing or renting or placing for rent real estate, or collecting rent therefor, shall constitute the person doing the same a real estate broker or salesman within the meaning of the act."

The decision of the supreme court rendered within the past month, held that if a person simply introduces a client to an agent who has a license and the person doing the introducing is not a licensed agent, if on the strength of that introduction the licensed broker agrees to pay a commission to the other person, that other

GRADE CROSSINGS ARE NOT WANTED SAYS AUTO CLUB

That a general endorsement is to be given the steps taken toward eliminating dangerous grade crossings on the highways throughout the southern part of the state, is indicated by scores of letters from prominent motorists received at the offices of the Auto Club of Southern California. Chambers of commerce have already endorsed the movement for immediate action and other civic organizations throughout the various counties are falling into line, according to club officials.

It is pointed out that more than public sentiment is needed to bring the matter to a crisis, in order to prevent further loss of life at grade crossings, and according to a statement just issued from the Auto club, this organization will continue to take a leading part in making the death-dealing crossings a feature of the past.

Boards of supervisors throughout the counties have received a copy of the resolutions recently passed by the club's board of directors, and action is pending through this part of the state.

ENGLISH CAR BREAKS RECORD
All world records for automobile speed were broken when William Campbell, an English driver, in a 350-horse-power British car, recently covered one kilometer in 16 1/2 seconds, or 136 miles an hour, in Copenhagen, Denmark.

person may bring suit and get his commission if he can prove the facts.

The case decided by Judge Chase was brought against one of the local real estate dealers by a non-licensed person to recover a commission. It was a case of introducing a client and on the strength of that introduction the licensed broker agreed to pay a commission to the other person, that other

HONEST TO GOODNESS

Be it known to the live ones in Glendale that we offer one of the greatest investments and business opportunities of the season.

Located on the corner of San Fernando and Eulalia Sts., where 28,000 autos pass daily, and, when the new Depot, only one and one-half blocks away, is completed, many thousands more will travel by east and west. Lot is 60 ft. on San Fernando and 150 ft. on Eulalia, improved by a brick building 50x60, housing an auto repair shop and accessory business, the authorized agency for Ford parts and with an oil and gas station in connection, besides a dandy home facing on Eulalia Street.

The owner's health is not good, so he closes from 7:00 p. m. to 7:00 a. m., and Sundays. At that, his monthly turnover for the gas and accessory business alone is in excess of $2000 per month.

This layout, if handled by a man equal to his opportunity will produce from $10,000 to $15,000 net per year, and pay a liberal salary.

Furthermore, the increased value in real estate would show a handsome profit soon.

Price for the property now is $25,000. The stock of parts, gas and oil equipment can be bought at a fair figure.

$10,000 down will handle this. Rent it at a profit and cash in on the rising values.

A Glendalian ought to buy this and not allow an outsider to step in and take the choice

Ideas grow senile and slumber and sleep and lie in their graves for ages. They come again in the garb of use to slaughter and to slay; to inspire and to liberate. J. Harvey McCarthy Is Sold by Viewpoint Before Dollar Shows

J. Harvey McCarthy, developer of Eagle Glen Heights, Carthay Center on Wilshire boulevard, and nearly thirty other well known home areas in and around Los Angeles, is one of the most persuasive salesmen to be found anywhere. He is always so completely "sold" on his own tracts that he just naturally makes people see through his eyes. They are good real estate eyes, too, says H. V. Henry, his Glendale manager, for there is no better judge of property in California.

With Mrs. McCarthy and his son "Billy," Mr. McCarthy sailed last Wednesday for Honolulu, on the S. S. Maui of the Matson line for a well-earned vacation. During the past few months he has disposed of more than a million dollars' worth of property at Carthay Center, and nearly all of Eagle Glen Heights, besides a numberless amount of individual transactions. That would have been enough for most men. A vacation would have meant rest from all business thoughts or cares. But not to "J. Harvey," as Mr. McCarthy is known to his business and social friends, as was evidenced the other day when the general manager of his interests received a telegram from San Francisco which included these instructions:

"Tell Henry am sending first payment on lot in Eagle Glen Heights for E. P. Burdett, Lexington, Ky. Sold him from folder."

The expression "sold him from folder" means that Mr. McCarthy had with him a salesman's map with some pictures of Eagle Glen Heights on it, and that this was all that was necessary for "J. Harvey" to interest a man who had never even seen the property he was invited to buy. Mr. Henry says that if the incident had happened a little later he probably couldn't have filled the order as there are only three or four lots left for sale at Eagle Glen Heights.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN KILLS RATTLER WITH KNIFE
MODESTO, Calif., July 25.—United Press) Most women if they saw a nice four-foot rattlesnake all coiled up in the kitchen just hanging for a nip at the housekeeper's ankle would proceed to scream, faint or let the snake take the bite. Not so Mrs. Jack Howe, who saw the aforementioned rattler on her kitchen floor. She killed it.

Mrs. Howe is running a race with her husband to see who can kill the most rattlers. So this should be warning to all snakes that read not to wander into Mrs. Howe's kitchen. There's nothing more convenient they can do for her—unless it's coming in pairs. The Howes live between Coopers-town and LaGrange.

TWO THOUSAND AT GLENOAKS HUGE BARBECUE

Largest Assembly of Motion Picture Notables Attend Big Event

Approximately two thousand persons were present at the barbecue held recently at Glenoaks by the owners, including the largest assembly of motion picture notables ever gathered together at one subdivision outing.

Features of the day included addresses by City Manager Reeves of Glendale and Otis Harlan, who spoke of several of the pictures in the making at the Vitaphone studios, and introduced a number of motion picture celebrities that attended the event.

Cullen Landis, Otis Harlan, Marian Harlan, Helen Kistler, Bill Dwyer, (the greatest single-handed villain in the pictures), Iris Ashton, Marie Campbell, Helen Walton and Aggie Herring were among those present.

Nearly fifty players in all were present, most of whom were from the Vitaphone studios, where their new super-production, "The Pioneer" is now in the making. Several of the sets were taken at Glenoaks, according to Duane H. Wagar, production manager.

On the entertainment program were a troupe of Spanish musicians and dancers, and a trio of Swiss yodelers.

A feature of the day was the permission given visitors to the tract to help themselves to the apricots, with which the trees in the glen were loaded. Hundreds of

NEW CARD CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

A group of ladies who have recently formed a new card club were entertained Friday at luncheon followed by bridge at the Harriet Mae tea room by Mrs. Charles Jones of 413 West Lomita. Covers were laid for Mrs. E. H. Bottsford, Mrs. Eugene Gilliland, Mrs. Shook, Mrs. Collin Cable, Mrs. Hemer Lockwood, Mrs. A. J. Maxwell, Mrs. W. L. Andrews and the hostess. High score was made by Mrs. Shook. This meeting had been postponed from the week before, and the next one will be held Friday, August 3, at the home of Mrs. Maxwell, when the ladies will choose a name for their organization.

visitors availed themselves of this invitation and came prepared with boxes and bags in which to carry home the ripe, golden fruit.

The barbecue dinner was prepared and served by Fred Ramirez, famous barbecue chef. Fred was kept busy serving beans and sandwiches up to seven o'clock in the evening, long after the barbecued meat had given out, when automobiles were still coming into the glen, although the barbecue had been called for 1 o'clock.

According to Chef Ramirez, "Glenoaks is the most beautiful spot I have ever given a barbecue in. Never did I see so many great large trees. And cool, too. My helpers work hard and fast when serving barbecue dinners, and they were grateful for the fine, cool breeze. I'd like to own a home in Glenoaks."

Chef Ramirez has served barbecue spreads up and down the Pacific coast for the past fifteen years, and the officials of the Frank Melme company who are sales representatives for the subdivision, consider his recommendation a sincere tribute to the beauties of this picture spot.

TO MEASURE LOST MOTION

To measure the lost motion (back lash) jack up a rear wheel, set the gears in high, and grasping firmly the rim of the rear wheel, turn it ahead and back; if there is no more than four inches of travel to the wheel, means should be taken to decrease it. The various points at which you will find lost motion will be the speed change gears, at the universal joints, between the ring gear and driving pinion, in the differentials and at the points where the axle shafts enter the gears. The driving gears may be set closed but the rest of the lost motion will have to be overcome by putting in new parts.

Truths in Epigram

Be wisely worldly but not worldly wise. — Quarles.

A VALUELESS COMMISSION

Senator King of Utah is one of several about to visit soviet Russia. He and his comrades go at "the invitation" of the Hearst papers. The tourists will be the honored and feted guests of the controlling oligarchy. They will thus cut off from the opportunity of seeing the truth, if to ascertain the truth is any part of their quest.

The Hearst papers are pro-bolshevist. Bolshevists are believed to maintain a steady stream of paid and poisoned propaganda. That such propaganda appears with Hearst endorsement, nobody has charged. It is fair to say, however, that much of his papers published could not fail to be as pleasing to bolshevists as the stuff formulated in their own active bureau of misinformation.

Reports made by the unofficial commission of which King is a member might as well be rendered in advance. The character of them may be foreseen. These men go, possibly as deluded tools, to bolster up the cause of the soviets, a cause on behalf of which the pages of history have been stained with blood, and which has been a stupendous failure.

Senator Brookhart came out of Russia with the allegation that he had found there the most stable government on earth save one. So will the later agents of Lenin. It is for the purpose of being able to do this that their tour has been projected. A government the lasting qualities of which come solely from the course of eliminating opposition by murdering all who oppose, does not merit admiration. Paid or prejudiced agents may declare it a fine and noble institution, but the world is intelligent enough to recognize the error.

THE LONG ARM

Many have been the occasions calling to mind the "long arm of justice." The term is used as often as the law reaches out into the darkness, and drags back the criminal from his place of hiding. The length of the arm seems to have been greatly extended by the use of radio. Recently a deserter from the Alaska Coast guard was arrested as the ship bearing him entered the harbor at San Pedro. His story had been broadcast over the intervening seas. It had gone abroad so variously, that had he chosen another destination, doubtless arrest would have awaited him just the same. The incident seems to give an inkling of the lessening chance of offenders to escape.

The criminal who stays at the scene of his act seems to have a better chance than the one who flees. In all cities there are crimes committed by men who do not make an effort to run away. Were they to attempt to run a way they would create suspicion. In an hour a description might be in the hands of all police authorities within hundreds of miles. Thus the radio helps to solve a problem. Nothing, however, is as devised to make the solution complete. The fellow who keeps his identity hidden in the shadows of his customary haunts remains a baffling equation.

MISCONCEPTIONS OF ROMANCE

"Another romance of the films collapsed yesterday with the filing of an application for divorce by Miss Blank."

Such is the usual introduction. Then the story goes on, relating the fervent wooing of a year earlier, the gradual decay of affection, setting in usually about sixty days after the wedding. It is brought out quite incidentally that the bride had been married from once to three times before, procuring a legal separation and concomitant publicity in each instance. The groom also is likely to have a string of ex-wives, and to be looking about in hope of a fresh marital venture. Just as soon as the law allows, each of the parties at interest will be going to the altar again, in all probability, not for the last time.

These episodes are not romances. They are sordid and disgusting exhibitions of social activities on a low intellectual and moral plane. Men and women who devote themselves to getting married and unmarried with the utmost speed allowed by statute, are not fit for the relationship they assume. They have no thought of marriage as a permanency. They do not recognize any of the obligations it imposes on decency. There are individuals who enter into marriage as though it were no more serious than acceptance of an invitation to an evening at the theater.

An unfortunate opinion is created by the fact that these so-called marriages, which are merely fleeting and convenient associations, are so heralded abroad as to create a false impression concerning people in general. The masses, despite the evidence of the habitual divorce and her pals, have a deep respect for marriage. They resent the flippancy and the unblinking pertinacity, with which individuals make a mock of it.

AN UNPAYABLE DEBT

A man has been released from the Maine penitentiary after serving twenty years of a life sentence for murder. The release is due to the revelation of his innocence. He went forth from the institution with papers stating the fact officially, and perhaps this contented him. There seems, however, to be a debt owed to him by society. This is a debt that never could be paid. No expression of regret, no wealth of sympathy, no vindication, may bring back the wasted years.

With the protection the statutes throw about the criminal charged with grave offense, it seems almost impossible that an innocent man ever could be found guilty by a jury. There often is great difficulty in establishing guilt even when the guilt is known in advance, when the court and the world are aware of it.

The fact of guilt must be established in a certain way, the process technically correct. The prisoner himself is permitted to keep silence if such is his desire. Testimony fully convincing often is thrown aside by reason of some objection from the lawyer for the defense. Juries are notoriously inclined to mercy. They regard the presumption of innocence as a fetish. They give the accused the benefit of every reasonable doubt, and often of a doubt wholly unreasonable.

If despite this the state finds that it has convicted an innocent person it owes him much. For it to pay him a sum equal to that which he could have earned had he not been deprived of liberty, would seem to be the least that a self-respecting commonwealth could do. And even this could not pay the debt.

Dispatches say that economic experts find Germany unable to pay reparations even in part. It is believed that the decision will be received with complacency in Germany, whether because it is just, or because the conditions it indicates are deemed desirable, remains, perhaps, a question.

CANCERS, FLEAS AND FOOLS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Pardon the bluntness of the grouping, but I am so tired of the spewing of bunk that I am due to explode.

Some of these days a genius will arise from the unmanifold and come into the world to make a historic record of the banalities, cruelties and falsehoods uttered in the name of science.

Since I can remember some alleged scientist has been constantly shivering at the air with an announcement of some marvelous cure. For a time there would be a great dust, lots of publicity and then a long continued horse laugh—the latter from the "scientists" who had not made the "discovery" that had produced the publicity.

Most people have forgotten Koch of tuberculin notoriety, and perhaps most of us would have forgotten Friedman of turtle serum "fame" but for the genius of a cartoonist who drew a picture of the gentleman walking into the hall of fame and being offered a pedestal by Dr. Cook, who tried to take the north pole away from Peary and had such a bad time as a result. In that picture the German physician was carrying a little hand bag which dropped open when the discoverer of the pole greeted the discoverer of the serum and revealed a collection of small turtles which scuttled away in all directions. It was a hard picture to forget.

Now we have a new "discovery." It comes out of France and automatically condemns all dogs and cats to death. Dogs and cats carry fleas and fleas, so declares "science" convey cancer; ergo, kill the animals.

Of course a mere layman has no business to have ideas or to think. His business is to develop panic when panic is indicated by the chaps who make money or fame out of it; and I have no doubt that that statement backed up by a few hysterical editorials from men who have to have something new to write about will throw a large section of what Mr. H. L. Mencken calls "the yokelry" into spasms of fear and will send thousands of unfortunate animals to the pound or the cyanide tank.

To be sure regular baths with a little creolin added to the water will keep pets free of fleas, but who thinks in terms of common sense when panic is abroad?

But here is a grain of comfort: Cancer has greatly increased in recent years, so has sanitation. In homes of the better class fleas are practically unknown; yet there are middle aged people who can recall a time when fleas lived in every house and cancer was almost as rare as ballet girls in camp meetings.

How come? I've just finished reading an "awful, horrible, terrible" warning to all and sundry. It was shaken in the face of the world at the breakfast hour and it said, in effect, that dogs and cats must give place to health. Sacrifice the children's pets and save human life. And a lot more of the same thing.

Now every body knows, if he knows anything, that it is people past middle age who suffer with cancer and that it is children who mostly handle pets.

If cancer comes from fleas and fleas live on children's pets, why don't the kiddies have cancer?

But that is a troublesome question because the panic creating scientists can't answer it. There is just one atom of comfort in the whole absurd situation and that is the growing skepticism of the masses. Science has "discovered" so many things that were not so that nobody shies overmuch when some obscure scientist yelps from his seclusion that the world is going to the bows unless somebody gives up something or takes something or buys something.

The "scientists" ought to go back and read the story of the young shepherd who called wolf too often.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

There are innumerable opportunities to learn and better one's chances of success. These opportunities are open to all. No one need say that he is what he is because of lack of opportunity. The State or the City or both see to it that he has no reason for making such a statement, and if he does, it is because he is unfamiliar with the many roads to success, any one of which he may travel for the asking.

There are free schools, academic and vocational, both day and evening. There are inexpensive books which one can study at home. There are free lectures, newspapers and many other media of an educational nature. Furthermore, if one were not to avail one's self of school facilities, all that would be needed is a will. Having this, one cannot help but find a way.

If the writing and speaking of good English be your goal, make up your mind today to avail yourself of the facilities offered you, and work.

THE LISTENING POST

By JAMES W. FOLEY

Promise is a cheerful kind of chap. Full of humanity. Looking upon life with good nature. Taking things not too seriously.

Willing to be a good fellow at all times.

Why worry about the future?

Time enough to meet trouble when it comes.

Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you.

That used to be a popular saying.

And has some merit in it.

And some spirit not as meritorious.

Don't go looking for trouble.

But don't forget to mend the roof in preparation for rain.

Or to save a little for the future.

Because you may invite trouble to come looking for you.

If you fail to take some heed for future things.

But promise goes along dancing.

Full of the joy of living.

Willing to pledge anything in the future.

To do a certain thing at a certain time. Certainly.

To pay a certain sum at a certain time. Surely.

Why worry.

Time enough to keep the promise when it is due.

But time passes.

Sometimes slowly.

Sometimes rapidly.

It passes slowly usually in pain and travail.

Songs of the Poets

Song—By William Watson

O, like a queen's her happy tread,
And like a queen's her golden head!
But O, at last, when all is said,
Her woman's heart for me!

We wandered where the river gleamed
Neath oaks that mused and pines that dreamed,
A wild thing of the woods she seemed,
So proud, so pure and free!

All heaven drew nigh to hear her sing,
When from her lips her soul took wing;
The oaks forgot their pondering,
The pines their reverie.

And O, her happy queenly tread,
And O, her queenly golden head!
But O, her heart, when all is said,
Her woman's heart for me!

THE BURIAL AT SEA

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THESE lines are written somewhere on the Pacific Ocean about a thousand miles from Japan.

I have just witnessed a burial at sea. The captain came to me last night and asked me if I had ever seen a burial service on shipboard.

I replied that I had not. "Then," he said, "if you will be on the rear deck tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock you may witness the ceremony, and may find it interesting."

So at 8 o'clock this morning I went to the rear deck. I found there two lines of sailors and officers drawn up with a space between them. At the side of the vessel was a long board extending horizontally over the rail, and upon it was the body covered with the Japanese flag, for it was a Japanese third class passenger who had died.

Nearly all the Japanese on the ship, some 15 or 20 of them, were gathered, and many of the British and American passengers were present.

The sky was brightly blue and the smooth ocean gleamed in the sunshine like an infinite mirror. We were a little floating house of human beings swinging between the twin majesties of the sea below and the heavens above. No land or vessel was in sight. The unbroken horizon encircled us.

Down the lane between the two lines of seamen walked the staff captain holding his little book in his hand. As he took his place near the body all heads were bared.

Amid the deep silence, for the engines had stopped and it was as if all life held its breath, he began to read the burial service.

"I am the resurrection and the life, and he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live again."

I had heard these usual words many and many a time, but they peeped out now with a new and shattering impressiveness. One was thankful for ritual, that there were stately and sonorous words prescribed in a book to be said upon such an occasion, and that so great an event was not left to be marred by any impromptu imperfection.

At the close of the brief reading the words were uttered, "We therefore commit his body to the deep," two sailors tipped up the board, and the body, which was wrapped in canvas and weighted with iron, slid into the waters.

I felt, as I had never felt before, the beauty of death. And I think that upon the souls of all those who were present it was as if there had come the touch of a ghostly wing. Something had happened to make every one of us feel the inherent majesty of the human soul.

I had witnessed a spectacle, had seen a picture, which framed in my memory will never lose its brightness.

When the Lord's Prayer, as a part of the service, was repeated by the whole company, I heard a woman's voice behind me following the words in perfect English, in a voice that was very close to sobbing.

As we departed I turned and looked at her. It was a Japanese woman in her national costume with her long black hair hanging in a braid down her back. In her inscrutable, Oriental face I saw something which gave me a new conception of what that Galilean Peasant of two thousand years ago has meant to the human race.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

Bride arrested for larceny and groom for forgery, show that the course of true love may be marked by awful bumps.

Another confession of the Taylor murder has been received and presumably placed on file.

A would-be suicide has been sentenced to a day in the morgue, a milder sentence than he had planned for himself.

Starting a business with $1000 and failing for seven millions, expected of being low finance.

A Chicago judge who says a man has a right to dishonor wife and children merely invites contempt of court.

A Maine convict, having served twenty years, is discharged as innocent. He would seem to be entitled to an apology as well as freedom.

Chicago girls are informed that they will be dismissed from employment if they wear sleeveless dresses, emphasizing the fact that this is a land of liberty.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WORDS OF WISDOM

[Cincinnati Enquirer]

William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, the other day stood up in his place at the convention of anthracite miners, at Scranton, Pa., and said: "I do not believe it possible for any group of men to win a struggle in America provided public opinion is crystallized against them."

No truer words have been uttered in the long battle of industrialism for its rights, or what it claims as rights. Crystallized public opinion is invincible, and it may be taken as a reliable expression of the public will that the press of the country, from north to south, from east to west, at this time gravely and explicitly is warning both mine workers and mine operators that the nation will not again stand for being held up by them through the calamity of a great coal strike.

The American public, especially in recent years, has suffered too much from this sort of selfish and inconsiderate warfare between the contending forces of operators and miners. Such differences as they may have can and must be settled by them without making the public their victim.

The public now is pretty generally aware of the wretched program to mulct it by conscienceless men on both sides of the coal proposition.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The Coote failure, of which the papers have been full for days, is a tragedy. A firm that begins on "a shoestring" and reaches the magnitude that permits a failure for millions, has followed a career that should not have been permitted. No matter how the head of such a concern may be technically buttressed by the law against a charge of criminality, there has been a violation of the ethical code as immoral as any crime.

People with money to invest appear to be eager to find opportunities to throw it away. It seems that there is no adequate protection for them. There cannot be protection of the individual who is assailed by the impulses of his own foolishness.

There is abundant chance for sound investment. There is no chance whatever for getting rich suddenly. The investor never has this experience. The person who makes him promises and takes his money sometimes does get rich. Often he proves to be as big a fool as the investor, and the end finds him penniless as his victims.

Many people, innocent and trusting, have been ruined by this failure. There should be a lesson in the fact, and to them, there will be a lesson. But there will be a new list of dupes eager to grasp the next proffer of quick fortune.

Among the bills that Los Angeles is asked to pay is one for a marcel wave that adorned a beauty who had been hired to hypnotize voters into supporting a certain project.

The circumstance is unusual enough to be worth mentioning.

Two sisters made the mistake of marrying the same man. Discovery of the error almost led to a fatal strain on their affection for each other. Sisters ought to be careful about these matters.

Recently a woman gave a party in honor of the spirit that, as she said, had been her guide for many years. The spirit was supposed to be unembodied, and never to have had a body. It or she goes by the name of "Bright Eyes." An ethereal presence marked by eyes of any sort, and particularly by gleaming ones, would be worth going far to see.

There were other guests present. None had the pleasure of glimpsing the guest of honor. Too bad the distinguished Conan Doyle was not there with his camera.

When the solemn announcement is made that the romance of a handsome actress has been busted wide open, memory harks back to other romances in which she had figured, and that suffered similar fates. At the same time, imagination takes a forward glance to romances yet to be.

The busted romance is so commonplace an incident in some lives that it is a wonder the heroines think each worth mentioning.

Everybody concerned is to be congratulated on the appointment of C. J. Colden to be harbor commissioner. He is active in all civilian duties and has given much valuable public service.

The "little army men" of congress seem likely to be more than satisfied soon. In place of the small army they desire, they are apparently to achieve one so small as to be worth mentioning only in the obituary column.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SEASONED TIMBER

"I see you are a little troubled about my son," said the mother on whom the anxious teacher was calling. "Now, I can assure you that you needn't be. I have every confidence in him."

"Still I feel that he needs a tighter hand on him," began the teacher. "No, I think not," answered the placid parent rocking gently as she soothed her visitor. "I have brought him up to tell the truth. I demand strict obedience. I teach him I have every confidence in him and that makes him feel under obligation to play fair. Don't you think so?"

"I hope so," returned the teacher. "But you know adolescent boys and girls haven't adult standards of honor. It isn't fair to just expect them to have and not follow them up a little."

"Now how, for instance?" asked mother. "Did you know that Henry cut his gym periods last Thursday and went to the movies with one of the girls?"

"Why, no. He didn't tell me that. But I suppose he didn't think it was very important. After all, the gymnasium lesson is not a ranking subject and he may have thought I wouldn't object. Still he should have asked me about it. Who was the girl?"

"A very nice girl. But she had no permission to go either and I thought it was rather serious."

"Well, I'll speak to Henry about it, of course. Still I assure you that you have no cause to be worried about him. I have every confidence in him."

Which, as the teacher suggested, is not quite fair. Confidence that accepts whatever a child may do as right because he did it, is not healthy. When a child learns that his parents' confidence is blind he is likely to interpret freedom as license and get into no end of trouble.

Sometimes teachers feel that this sort of confidence is just another name for laziness. It is rather difficult to follow up the activities of adolescent children. Still it ought to be done. They are still children and without experience and tried standards.

One does not put a swing on the branches of the sapling but on the stout boughs of the firm old tree. There the youngsters may swing high and "see, all over the countryside." In their well-sheltered boughs the birds build their nests. Storms will not shatter the old trees' branches nor bend their sturdy trunks to the earth. The builder shakes his head at green timber. Only the seasoned stuff will weather.

Children are but in their first green growth. It is beautiful, inspiring, heartwarming, but it cannot as yet, face the full brunt of the weather. Shelter it yet a little.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Pete Tarkington doesn't know it yet. But his father is planning to get him licked this summer. If his old man succeeds in his scheme Pete will win some of the finest bruises that any young collegian ever did. His father thinks it will do him good.

"The kid is getting to be a yes-man," he growled. Old Pete Tarkington got his education with a pick-handle. He refuses to believe that a boy who lives, figuratively speaking on chocolate creams can stand grief as well as another who makes his big meal on fried ham and eggs. That's just Old Pete's idea. But there is no doubt that Young Pete is the yesningest youngster I ever listened to.

"The moon," you say, sternly, "is made of pot metal. Not green cheese at all."

"Really, now," says Young Pete, beaming. "Isn't that interesting?"

The kid is all right, or would be if he could get out of his system this theory that to be a perfect gentleman one must agree with everything anyone says. He isn't afraid. The way he ploughs into formations at football is convincing proof. It is necessary to re-set his face two or three times each season, for fear it will take root in the new location. He has plenty of brain, too, though it may be that he does not use it. Lots of yes-men assent to jackass propositions only because they do not bother to think. Or cannot think fast enough.

Anyhow, Old Pete plans to put Young Pete in charge of a pick and shovel gang. He'll get licked, of course, but maybe he'll do as much kicking as any other man. And the old man thinks that a boy who yesses all the time might as well be in bloomers.

But wait until Mrs. P. Wetherbury Tarkington finds it out!
